WESTERN UNION OPERATORS GO OUT ON A STRIKE

Telegraphers in Los Angeles, Denver, Chicago and Other Cities Have Left Their Positions.

operators, and in a special manner by giving them to work at unusual and inconvenient hours. The men further say that they have been treated with contempt at their keys, though not a few of them declare that the manner in which they are now being treated by the company is likely to cause another strike in the near future in this city and San Francisco.

OFFENDED MRS. NICHOLS.

"It is all because of this woman, Sadie Nichols, who had her picture in the paper the other night. She had the wire between this city and Los Angeles. Ryan, the operator in Los Angeles, who was discharged, was one of the men who held the key at the other end of the wire. Because Ryan's place was filled with non-union men the operators in Chicago went out on their strike last night.

"Ryan and other expert operators who had held the other end of the Los Angeles wire were not only able to make a good salary, but were also able to earn $250 or $300 extra. This woman Nichols was unable to keep up with them on the wire between this city and Los Angeles. This, it is said, angered him, and it has been charged that he said something to this Sadie Nichols that offended her, and it is claimed that because of this alleged offense he was discharged by the company.

"I do not believe the charge against Ryan is true. President Small of the National Telegraphers' Association was in West Oakland for a short time this morning, but told me that the charge was that he had no information as to the situation, save what appeared in the morning papers.

NON-UNION WORKERS.

"I understand that there are messages passing between this city and Los Angeles from the main office in West Oakland, but they are being sent by the non-union operators of whom there are about fifteen working.

"Regarding the harsh treatment to which the operators are subjected, I want to say that no more consideration is given to the women than to the men. The management is trying to annoy both in every way possible. Before the strike some of the women who went out had good positions and easy hours, but since they have been taken back they have been given hard working hours. Some of them for instance used to begin work at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Now they are to work at 11 o'clock in the morning and work till 5 o'clock in the afternoon. They have then to go to work until 6 o'clock and continue until 8 o'clock.

"Some of them have been sent to go from here to their homes as far away as Chicago to the other side of the bay, which they never reach until after 10 o'clock at night.

NO EXCITEMENT.

There is no excitement in West Oakland today and at noon the subject of holding a meeting of the telegraphers' union tonight was under consideration. At the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company on Broadway, Manager Folger told THE TRIBUNE reporter that he was receiving telegrams for Los Angeles subject to delay, and that messages were being delayed and were not being sent as rapidly as possible under the circumstances. He said he had telegraph operators on duty, one of whom, however, was a member of the telegraphers' union.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Ten non-union telegraphers, who assisted the Western Union Telegraph Company in breaking the recent strike in San Francisco and Oakland, arrived in Los Angeles this morning and were taken at once to the local Western Union office. Four of them were held in reserve and six were sent immediately into the operating room.

Eight or ten of the striking telegraphers were gathered on the street in front of the building when the strike-breakers arrived, but there was no demonstration and no effort to prevent their going to work.

"You had better have stayed in Oakland," one of the striking telegraphers called out. "You are liable to be needed there before night."

There was no reply to this and the non-union men were quickly taken to the operating room. The company had twenty-two men at work, counting chiefs and officials, at 9:30 this morning. All business in sight was evidently being handled with small delay, and there was no congestion of messages, owing to the decrease in volume of business.

"SUBJECT TO DELAY."

The "subject to delay" notices were still displayed in the business office of the company and this had the effect of giving a green light of business to the Postal office, where it was taken care of. There is much talk among the striking

CLOWRY TELLS ABOUT STRIKE

Western Union President Says Operators Are Trying for Closed Shop.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—The following dispatch from President Clowry, of the Western Union, was received from New York this afternoon by Assistant Superintendent of the Western Division I. N. Miller:

"I have just issued the following correct statement of the situation: On July 23 an operator at Los Angeles was charged with maliciously delaying traffic. As a careful investigation which occupied several days showed conclusively that he was guilty of deliberately obstructing traffic on an important circuit, he was discharged. A petition, signed by other employees of the office, requesting his re-instatement, was hereupon presented to local superintendent, and when the signers were advised that the company would not tolerate the malicious delaying of important messages and that the discharged operator could not be re-employed, the majority of the operating force quit work without notice."

"Operators were sent to take their places from nearby points and at 11 o'clock last night the operators in the Chicago office employed on the Western circuits, acting in conformity with resolutions understood to have been adopted by the local union organization, refused to work with the non-union men at Los Angeles, and when this was insisted on they quit work in a body. The Chicago operators have presented no grievances and the present movement is an attempt to secure the closed shop rule, which if successful would take the control of the company's affairs out of its own hands. Such a condition, as has been repeatedly shown, is inimical to the confidential and responsible character of the company's relation to the United States government and the public."

E. G. Clowry, President.

FRAUD VOTES ARE ALLEGED

Michael Casey Writes a Letter to District Attorney Langdon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Michael Casey has written the following letter to the District Attorney:

"San Francisco, Aug. 8, 1907.

"Mr. William H. Langdon, District Attorney of San Francisco—Dear Sir: The undersigned committee of the anti-graft element of the Union Labor party (union labor citizens bent on saving the Union Labor party from further domination by improper influences and giving it in charge of the good-faith union workingmen of San Francisco) has, in pursuance of its duty, been requested to inform you certain information touching crimes against the election laws with the hope of enlisting your valuable advice and aid in obtaining action of the proper kind by the Grand Jury, should you think the matter one to be laid before that body.

"Careful inquiry has been made, and yet further inquiry is in progress, with reference to what is known as 'colonizing' in the Assembly districts devastated by the fire of April, 1906. We have as a result of the work already done what we regard as sufficient evidence of criminal 'colonizing' to justify prosecution of certain persons guilty, as we feel, of false swearing in the matter of registration. Some of this evidence we herewith submit, requesting that it be treated as confidential pending a decision as to the best course of procedure. Other evidence will be submitted later.

"We shall be glad of a consultation with you at your convenience. Yours respectfully,

(Signed) "COMMITTEE ON ELECTION FRAUDS," By Michael Casey, chairman; "Gus Harders, Secretary."

STRIKE HERE IS UNLIKELY

Telegraphers Committee Meets to Decide What Action Will Be Taken.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the executive committee of the local telegraphers' union went into executive session in Sunset Hall, on Seventh street, near Campbell, for the purpose of discussing the strike situation in Chicago and to determine what action, if any, should be taken by the telegraphers of this city and San Francisco.

There were six of the nine members of the committee present and the sentiment of these was decidedly in favor of not calling a strike at this time. They felt that the wishes of National President Small should be respected and that wish, as expressed this morning in a telegram from San Francisco, was that the local operators should remain at work.

little weight with the public other than to excite a feeling of resentment that such statements should be permitted to pass without challenge by the judge who tried the case or some official in position invested with authority to do so.

BURNS AN AGITATOR.

With those who know Burns best he is not regarded as much of a detective, but rather as an agitator. His plan of procedure is to create a public sentiment in favor of his side of the case and thus secure convictions, even when there is insufficient evidence to establish the charge against an accused man under normal conditions of the public mind.

Burns gave a good illustration of his methods in the trial of Walter Dimmick, who had been cashier of the mint and was charged with having stolen $30,000 of the government's money. Dimmick had been once tried, the jury disagreeing.

On the second trial able counsel was retained to specially prosecute the case, Peter F. Dunne being selected for the task. George D. Collins was Dimmick's lawyer. A special venire was returned for the trial. The evidence on the second hearing was practically the same as on the first. Burns then, as now, had a large squad of detectives at work for him. One of the duties of this band of "gunshoes" was to trail the jurors wherever they went, even after the case had been submitted to them and the body placed in the custody of the marshal.

One day, when the jurors were being taken out to dinner an over-zealous "gunshoe" man persisted in taking up his trail so close to the jury that one of the body, exasperated, a fist fight followed and the Burns operative thrashed the juror handsomely. The United States District Attorney's office was much perturbed over this incident. To have it go to the jury and the public that a juror had been assaulted and done up by one of the prosecution's detectives, would certainly prove fatal to their case.

But "Agitator" Burns was delighted. Here was a chance for him to agitate. He was in his element.

"I'll fix that," he declared gleefully. Burns got his "gunshoe" man out of the way and under cover and then returned with a story that it was a "Colins thug" that had beaten a juror, while the latter was in the faithful performance of his duty. This explanation, of course, caught the jurors who were keenly indignant at the assault upon one of their fellows. The court and all the Federal officials that came in contact with it were informed of the outrage committed by the "Colins thug."

This story probably had as much, if not more influence, upon the verdict than did Peter F. Dunne's masterly management of the legal branch of the case. The jury found the defendant "guilty as charged."

Detective Burns had agitated and won. He is now agitating on similar lines.

RUDOLPH SPRECKELS IS MENTIONED FOR CABINET

political purity committee of the sugar prince. The whole story is recounted by the leaders of the Republican party and the many friends of Metcalf.

LITTLE LIGHT.

A little light has recently been shed upon the complicated subject by the announcement that in the last State campaign Rudolph Spreckels was a Democrat and exerted himself to advance the candidacy of Theodore Bell for Governor, and that therefore, he is to wait until the United States has a Democratic President before entering the cabinet. Whether this change of political faith was brought about by Francis J. Heney, who is alleged to be a Democrat, does not appear.

During the last State campaign, and when the contest was at a high temperature many leading members of the party paid little visits to the Republican headquarters and consulted with General George Stone, chairman of the State Central Committee, and others in charge of the canvass. All contributed their advice, at least, while others may have furnished shrews of war, upon which the successful conduct of campaigns so much depends.

Rudolph Spreckels was among the visitors, either by invitation or from personal interest.

Instead of contributing aid to the cause of the Republican party he announced in direct terms that he was opposed to the ticket nominated and proposed to do all that lie in his power to elect Bell. The subsequent changes between members of the Republican campaign committee and Spreckels were not cordial.

MAY HAVE TO WAIT.

It is for these reasons that Republicans in the clubs and in the hotel lobbies are of the belief that Spreckels will have to await the election of a Democratic President before securing a cabinet portfolio. It is argued that President Roosevelt, who is a strong advocate of party discipline and organization, would hardly appoint a Democrat to his cabinet.

But Spreckels' political purity committee are progressive in their gifts to their patron. They now say Spreckels' appointment to the President's official family will be but a stepping stone to higher office. They whisper, "Spreckels for President" and then quickly add, "not this time but in the national campaign five years hence." The amendment furnishes a measure of relief, but California and the United States at large may yet be surprised at the high honors that the graft prosecution seeks to throw upon its promoters.

THIS MURDERER STARVED

They were about to procure a marriage license, he followed them and shot and killed the man at the corner of Clay and Powell streets. He also endeavored to kill the woman, and slashed her with a razor, inflicting severe wounds.

It was thought at first that the woman would die, but she is now out of danger. Rodriguez was arrested immediately after his crime by Policemen McMahon and Handley and lodged at the city prison. The man realized the strong case against him, and knew that he had no chance to save his life and on that account succeeded in starving himself to death.

MISTAKES HUSBAND FOR BURGLAR AND KILLS HIM

Slain in Dead of Night With Revolver He Bought Wife to Protect Herself While He Was From Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Edward Farquhar, of 317 Twentieth street, was slain by his wife last night, and the body was found in the front room, and she could see a figure moving in the dim light. She received no response to the questions she asked, and raised the revolver and fired. The figure in the next room fell groaning to the floor.

The shot aroused the little crippled son, and he and his mother went into the next room and pulled up the shade. Mrs. Farquhar became hysterical when she saw that she had shot her husband. Dr. William Peters of 1402 Eighteenth street was sent for, but Farquhar had bled to death before he arrived.

Mrs. Farquhar has been ill for more than a month and her hearing has been impaired. It is believed that her husband answered her, but she, failing to hear him, thought it was a burglar. She was removed to the Central Emergency hospital, where she continued to rave hysterically up to an early hour this morning.

CLOTHES FOUND IN BOAT.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—Friends of Otto M. Adas of this city fear that he has been drowned. He rented a boat yesterday morning and went out on the bay, saying he was going to have a swim. He has not been seen since, but the boat was found at National City this afternoon. In it were his clothing and other effects. Adas is about 36 years old and is secretary of the Corona Water Company.

MUST PROVE FIRE'S ORIGIN.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 8.—Summons taken out by plaintiffs and defendants in the insurance actions, asking for better treatment regarding the fire and earthquake, were answered in the local court yesterday. The most important point made was that the insured must prove the origin of the fire at the trial of the cases.

BARBECUE AT CARNIVAL BY CITIZENS OF PLEASANTON

Preliminary Organization of Chamber of Commerce Is Formed in Bustling Alameda County Town.

PLEASANTON, Aug. 8.—At an enthusiastic meeting held in the town hall last night a preliminary organization of a Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce was effected. Representative men of the community appreciating the necessity of a body that can promote with force the interests of their section, took the first steps in a campaign of promotion by which it is intended to turn a great deal of attention to the fertile valley surrounding the town.

In this work of organization several Oakland men assisted. President Frank W. Bilger of the Chamber of Commerce, Director-General Bernard P. Miller of the Alameda County Exposition and Carnival, and District Attorney Everett J. Brown, offered their advice and promised to do everything in their power for the movement.

Mr. Bilger and Mr. Miller came to Pleasanton not only to help along the organization of the Chamber of Commerce here, but also to arouse an interest in the great exposition and carnival to be held in Idora Park, Oakland, for two weeks, beginning September 23. They told the men of Pleasanton that no better beginning could be made than by the placing of an exhibit in Idora Park representative of the valley about Pleasanton. Their suggestions were warmly received and though the imperfect organization prevented definite action, it was the unofficial decision of those gathered at the meeting that such a display be made.

PLAN BIG BARBECUE.

It is likely, too, that the public-spirited citizens of Pleasanton will bestir themselves in another way. Out near town here lives the most famous barbecue man in the country. In all probability he will be engaged by the young Chamber of Commerce and a great barbecue will be held in Idora Park during the two week's festa. In this way a considerable sum can be realized for the first work by which Pleasanton is determined to win the attention due her. The scheme contemplates a large canvas inclosure within Idora Park and near the Shattuck avenue side. Inside this inclosure the barbecue will be held, if arrangements to that end are made, and the thousands of visitors at the carnival will be treated to the novelty of a barbecue. Great spits will be arranged and long tables will be built for the deliciously barbecued meat. An admission will be charged, the inclosure and once a person is inside everything will be free. It is expected that many thousands of people can be entertained in this manner.

For a long time the people of Pleasanton have felt the need of a chamber of commerce or some such organization to boost their rich country. This feeling has been growing and the meeting last night was the first effort to give it expression and tangible form. Among those at the meeting enthusiastic over the work of organization and over the prospects of Pleasanton and her tributary section in general were Herbert Furlong, Chris Runkel, Joseph Arendt, Alfred Arendt, H. Sheldale, James Cruikshank, Dr. E. Harris, C. Latham, Thomas H. Silver, A. B. Pickard, E. C. Davila, J. B. Balme, W. T. Sylvia, A. Fadle and Lee Wells.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION.

Mr. Furlong was chosen president pro tem and Mr. Runkel secretary. In a few words the former expressed the sentiment that had drawn the men of the town together.

"We believe in Pleasanton and we intend that this part of the county shall have the credit that is due it," he said. "This movement means progress. Let us proceed with the motto: 'Never look backward.' If we intend to promote the interests of Pleasanton we must work with our eyes and our thoughts upon the future."

The president then called upon Mr. Bilger, who, as head of the Chamber of Commerce of Oakland, urged the people of Pleasanton to organize and co-operate with Oakland in the general advancement of the interests of the county. Mr. Bilger was followed by Mr. Miller, director general of the exposition, in which Pleasanton will take a prominent part. Mr. Miller advocated the installation of an exhibit that would force attention upon Pleasanton. Then he suggested the barbecue as a means for putting the new organization squarely upon its feet and in the good graces of the people from all over the State who will foregather in Idora Park during the great county show.

Mr. Runkel and Mr. Sylvia both strongly urged the necessity of organizing. And several other men present spoke along the same line.

The Oakland men had to leave early for the long ride home. They were given a vote of thanks for their interest in the welfare of Pleasanton as a part of Alameda county. After their departure the work of organization was continued and before the meeting adjourned it was voted that the president appoint an organizing committee to effect a permanent organization immediately. As soon as this organization has been completed the details of Pleasanton's part in the county carnival will be worked out.

PSYCHICAL RESEARCH WILL BE THEIR CONSTANT AIM

Berkeley Society Is Organized and Hears Extended Address on Subject of Hypnotism.

BERKELEY, August 9.—E. S. Cooper, who for years has made a careful and complete study of psychical research and phenomena, was elected president of the Berkeley Society for Psychical Research at a meeting held in the Masonic temple last evening. A. F. Hood, of 1081 Spring street, was elected treasurer and secretary.

After the election of officers, President Cooper said in part: "There is going to be a large society in Berkeley without doubt. Our membership list will probably reach sixty or more. There will be plenty of work for all of us to do, and I ask each and every one of you to pitch in and do your share. There are plenty of sources of information in and about Berkeley, the Berkeley public library, the Oakland library and the University library. Everybody should bring some fact to the meetings with them and make them known. After this meeting is over, get in and shake hands with everybody and make yourself acquainted. You are not expected to lay back and absorb knowledge which is being propounded by some one else, but you will be expected to tell all facts which you may know as regards the subject in hand."

HYPNOTISM FIRST.
President Cooper then told the people present that hypnotism would be the subject taken up for the time being. At first, they would go into it lightly, explained the president, but would be leaving the subject, study it deeply and learn its meaning thoroughly. He then introduced Dr. E. R. Tait, of Oakland, as a man well-versed on hypnotism, as the speaker of the evening.

Charles Keeler, the poet, is a close friend of Dr. Tait's, and it was he that asked the eminent hypnotist to speak on the subject.

Dr. Tait, who is a very entertaining and instructive speaker, told his audience that hypnotism could be divided into six separate stages: (1) Waking stage, (2) sub-hypnotic stage, (3) complete coma, (4) somnambulism, (5) clairvoyant, (6) spiritual illumination. He described the actions of subjects in all six of the various stages.

In opening his talk, Dr. Tait said in part: "We are face to face with man as he really is when under the hypnotic state, not as we know him, but as he is. We look on the mind of man as being dual—objective and subjective. A man is objective when performing the ordinary duties of the day and he is subjective when he is sleeping. The hypnotic state is nothing more than sleep under the direction or control of an "operator." The human mind is naturally obedient and always desires to do what it is told and on this fact hinges the success of hypnotism.

"In a hypnotic state, subjects will perform all normal acts to the best of their ability. But many subjects who are naturally not very proficient in speech, can by hypnotism be made to speak eloquently, and some cases display talent and genius, and also great feats of strength. These are called the abnormal actions of the subject. The operator has control over both mind and body. We can equip the subject with marvelous strength by making the muscles obey his mind, or he can make a subject weak or forget his own name.

"The various organs of the body can also be made to act in abnormal ways. For instance, a man's heart, in a hypnotic state is nothing more than sleep under one wrist 80 and in the other 85. By hypnotism we can control bleeding which goes to show that even the blood vessels will obey when commanded."

Dr. Tait then told of some of the deeper phases of his subject, such as clairvoyance, psychometry and telepathy. But he did go into details on these deeper subjects.

In speaking of the popular belief that hypnotism was dangerous, Dr. Tait said that such was not the case as it could always be slept off and leave no ill effects whatsoever. He then stated that many people had a fear and dread for hypnotism and could never be persuaded to become subjects.

USEFUL IN EDUCATION.
Dr. Tait told of the usefulness of hypnotism in education. By its aid, he said, talents which would have been thought of can be developed in a subject. Education, as Dr. Tait sees it, is nothing more or less than suggestion itself. Another peculiar phase of the subject, is that known as post-hypnotic instruction, such as instructing a subject to do a certain thing at a certain time and the subject will do it.

Dr. Tait believes that in a very few years, hypnotism will have much to do with the controlling and quelling of diseases under the influence of suggestion. Relative to this, he stated that people are only on the threshold of hypnotism and have much to learn as yet. According to his beliefs the ancients had a knowledge of hypnotism. This is proven, he said, by the scripts and writings found on the gravestones and monuments of the ancient Egyptians. He believes that the Egyptians regarded hypnotism as one phase of their religion, and it was only known to a very few priests, the people in general being almost entirely ignorant on the subject.

Hypnotism is also often referred to in various places in the Bible. The doctor quoted the case of a man, who was ordered to jump into the river Jordan to cure his leprosy. He did so and was cured of the disease.

The speaker then told about some widely disputed subjects. He said that a person cannot be hypnotized against his or her will. It is an impossibility to do so. When a person is hypnotized the operator is only the mouthpiece. The operator need not be a person of great will power or peculiar opinion. Anyone can hypnotize another, providing he knows how. This is a very common thing, and many persons and children, who can neither hypnotize or be hypnotized. There is also a popular belief that the control an operator has over a subject is a sign of a weak will in the subject, but it has been ascertained that the best subjects are people of very strong will.

AS TO CRIME AND HYPNOTISM.
"A person cannot be hypnotized to commit a crime," continued the speaker, "if that person has an aversion or is opposed to the crime. A man cannot be made to commit murder, but he can be made to forge another man's name to a check if he is talked to in the proper way by the operator. The reason for this is that the man at the time sees no crime in merely signing a name to a slip of paper. If a subject is told to do something to which he is strenuously opposed he will immediately wake up and come out of the hypnotic spell."

At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Tait answered all questions the audience asked.

BY-LAWS ADOPTED.
A set of by-laws was accepted and adopted by the members of the society. Article one reads as follows: "Section 1. This society shall be known as the Berkeley Society for Psychical Research."

Section 2—its object is the thoughtful and careful study of all available data concerning the nature and significance of psychic phenomena.

The by-laws state that the term of office will be one year, and at the first meeting in September of each year officers will be elected for the following year.

In dismissing the meeting President Cooper announced that at the next meeting, Thursday evening, August 16th, the study of mesmerism from its historical standpoint will be gone into. The meeting will be held at the Masonic temple, corner of Bancroft way and Shattuck avenue.

FALLS TWO STORIES; FRACTURES SKULL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A quick run in the ambulance and a skillful operation of Chief Surgeon Pinkham of the Central Emergency Hospital, will probably save the life of Harry Hartman, a painter, who fell a distance of two stories this morning, suffering a fractured skull.

Hartman had been working on a building on Dora street, between Ninth and Tenth, when the rope supporting the painter's scaffolding broke, precipitating him to the street below. He fell on his head and shoulders and a hurried call was sent for the ambulance. So quickly did the steward respond to the call that although the accident happened a long distance from the hospital the man was on the table within half an hour after his fall.

Chief Surgeon Pinkham happened to be on duty at the time and the operation, which was a difficult one, was successfully performed.

BURGLARS AND ROOM
THIEVES MAKE HAULS

George Newman, 420 San Pablo avenue, was awakened this morning that during his absence last night his room was entered through a door that was unlocked; $275 in cash and one five-rupee gold piece were stolen. Newman's roomer, Harry R. Ganser, lost $20 at the same time.

A false key was used by the thief who entered the room of Frank Gans, at 473 Seventh street, and stole a quantity of clothes and several neckties constituted the plunder taken.

Frank Annot, of 2210 Oregon street, Berkeley, lost a wallet containing his citizenship papers, while he was walking about the streets yesterday.

C. B. Hunter, of Washington, D. C., was taken to the hospital yesterday morning after suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis.

TAKES MEDICINE LIKE ANYBODY

Christian Science Journal Man Is Discovered Ill in Care of Physicians.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Boston says:

Search for Joseph Armstrong, a prominent Christian Scientist of Boston, who is wanted to testify in connection with the taking of depositions in the litigation against Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, ended in a discovery that Armstrong is ill at his residence. Contrary to the fundamental principles of Christian Science, he has for six weeks had medical treatment.

Armstrong is manager of the Christian Science Journal and publisher of all the Christian Science literature. He has been absent from his duties for weeks and it will be some time before he returns to them.

MOTORMAN SHOT IN LEG DURING CAR STRIKE ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A car strike disturbance that savors of the beginning of the trouble between Patrick Calhoun and his union employees took place this morning at 11 o'clock at Third and Townsend streets. As a result of the trouble, William Baker, a union motorman, lies at the Harbor hospital with a bullet wound in the fleshy part of his right leg.

The stories of the beginning of the trouble are rather conflicting, but the general impression seems to be that the affair was started by Baker. Baker was acting as driver of a union bus, and it was standing at the corner of Third and Market streets, waiting for a load. Several passengers were in the bus at the time, and after a little while one of these, named Dr. Smith, who has an office in the Postoffice building, called Baker's attention to some loud talking on the sidewalk near by.

Baker turned around and saw B. Young, an inspector for the United Railroads, standing on the curb. The two men got into a discussion, which ended in Baker's jumping from his seat to the street and picking up a rock, hurling it at Young. Young, who is one of the oldest inspectors in the employ of the company, and is also a special policeman, drew his revolver and fired, hitting Baker in the leg. The latter was so frightened by the sight of the weapon and the report of the shot that, although he was wounded, he was able to run across the street and up three flights of stairs to the fourth floor of the Call building.

A large crowd shortly collected around Young, who had by this time returned his weapon to his pocket, and loud were the threats from union sympathizers to mob the inspector.

ASSAILANT COOL.
The latter was very cool, however, and knew enough not to again fire any shots. As no one in the crowd seemed willing to take the initiative in doing bodily harm to the inspector, he was not molested, and a squad of police arriving on the scene shortly after dispersed the crowd.

An ambulance from the Harbor hospital took Baker away for treatment, and Young followed the wounded man to learn the extent of his injuries. When Baker arrived at the hospital he told the sergeant and attendants that Young had begun the trouble by drawing his revolver. This the inspector emphatically denied, and he is corroborated in his statement by Division Superintendent S. B. Bond.

The injured man will soon be able to be about his work again, as the bullet did not sever an artery.

BEATEN BY STRANGER.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—Annie Roach, living at the Metropolitan Hotel, Sixth and Harrison streets, was treated at the Receiving Hospital this morning for a badly battered head and face.

According to the woman's story, she was in her room at an early hour this morning when some one knocked at her door. On opening it, a tall dark man confronted her and without warning, assaulted her with his fists. She has sworn out a "John Doe" warrant for the arrest of her assailant.

And this also is worth
Mention

While away, Oakland has kept steadily progressing, work has begun on her two million dollar hotel, new stories have been added to the many big buildings in course of erection, there have been improvements around the lake and our park bonds have been eagerly bought. Give a thought to these things too.

After the Enjoyments of Vacation

It is a pleasure to return to the home. But after the return the erstwhile neglected roof-tree seems to need much attention.

While you have been away we have been making special preparations for taking care of all those little things that are now needed. Bright ruffled curtains for the boudoir, a new door panel, some pretty draperies, a fresh couch cover, a few center pieces, some new silvery table linen, some snow-white sheets, pillow-cases and bedspreads—these are a few of the many things needful that you can select with much ease and satisfaction from our new Fall lines.

There are many other things that we need not suggest, but which you can find in their proper departments; come in anyway and let us welcome you and renew acquaintanceship.

Swell New Fall Suits

Determined to maintain its reputation as a leader in fashion, the cloak and suit department thus early announces a display of fall's newest ideas in ladies' suits.

$17.50, $20.00, $22.50 and to $50.00

These early models display tailored coats, long and of medium length; and there are also some of the popular semi-fitted coat suits, which are to be worn either short or long.

The most fashionable fabrics are new shades of brown, gray, dark mixtures and stripes.

New Fall Walking Skirts

$7.50, $8.50, $10 and to $25

These smart walking skirts show two of the most popular fall ideas—plaited and 21-gored circular styles. The materials are Panamas and taffeta silks in the new browns, blues and black.

New Fall Coats

Advance ideas in full-length coats—two snappy styles in covert

$14.50

A good assortment of new coats in broadcloth—colors of wine, brown, navy, tan, gray and black.

$13.50 to $35.00

Some School Talk

Mothers will be busy Saturday—they will be gathering together the little people's wardrobes so that they may be presentable at the opening of school next Monday. Neat dresses will be required, dresses that will wear and wash well, and we have a miscellaneous lot of good gingham, percale and chambray dresses in broken sizes, all marked down so as to save about one-third.

Another good line, specially good at this time, is a lot of little boys' Russian blouses, Buster Brown and pique suits, all marked at saving prices.

In children's headwear there are many special reduced lines, but although prices are minimized, the hats are just as good as new for school wear.

Then there are plenty of smart new guimps and aprons for young girls.

Clever little suitcases for school books, lunches, skates, etc. And a good assortment of yachting caps, Parsifals and Norfolk caps for boys.

Extraordinary Sale of $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and $6.50 Novelty Parasols

Special . . . $3.35

Had these parasols arrived when we expected them two months ago, you would not have been able to buy them at this special price. They are the cream of our summer stock, and for no other reason than the delay in transportation you can make a choice at

$3.35

The selection of styles can be called complete—it embraces colored taffetas, white embroidered linens, checks, plain linens with fancy Dresden borders and a dozen other novelties in this season's Parasols. Take a glance at the display in the window and you will at once appreciate just what this sale means. The original tags are on the Parasols and there is no reserve—any Parasol in the house marked up to $6.50 can be bought at the special price

$3.35

Right on Time Are the English "Piccadilly" Coats

For children aged from 8 to 14 years.

We are particularly enthusiastic over the English "Piccadilly" coats—they possess so many points of excellence. They are popular with parents because they are not only stylish, but serviceable. The dash of London tailoring that is apparent in every line appeals strongly to those who appreciate severity in fashion. The "Piccadilly" coat is perfection—loose enough to be swagger and comfortable, fitted enough to be neat; its three-quarter length makes it exceedingly agreeable for fall and winter wear and the excellent quality renders it economical.

The new Fall and Winter Piccadilly Coats come in the new hunter red, navy, burnt onion and other solid colors, also in novelty checks and plaids and in a good variety of the very popular brown and gray mixtures. Prices: $6.50, $7.95, $8.95, $10.95 to $18.95

Fall Woolen Waistings

45c, 50c, 75c and to $1 a Yd.

The beautiful wool batistes and flannel novelties that have been designed for fall and winter waistings have come in a wide variety of colorings and patterns—an assortment that shows much originality on the part of the designers.

These soft, warm waistings are designed in all kinds of bright plaids, bold Roman stripes, new combinations of new colors, particularly striking being the new tans, browns and reds. A specialty is a magnificent lot of Scotch tartans—anything that can be desired in dark or light effects.

A hint that it is well to remember in regard to nearly all fabrics is that the novelties are sent out first from the mills and as the season proceeds, late orders are often filled with more stately patterns; those in the habit of choosing early are fully acquainted with this fact.

Our Menagerie— Bears of all Sizes and Prices

In one of the Twelfth street windows we are now making an exhibit of Teddy bears. There are tiny, little bears of the kind that all have read about in the tale of Red Riding Hood; there are youthful bears, adult bears, fore bears and one great big King Bruin presiding over the den.

One difference between these well-behaved bears and the wild fellows of the woods—these bears are made to be hugged instead of to do the hugging, which makes them much more bearable.

Prices are

60c, 85c, $1.25, $1.50, and up to $2.75.

Children's School Hose The "Cadet" 25c Pair

We want your judgment on these stockings for children. There are all kinds of children's stockings on the market, but we believe the "Cadet" leads them all. We have reached this belief because of what we have seen and heard.

"Merode" Union Suits For Children Special . . . 45c

This is a clean-up of this well-known make-up of union suits in sizes 6, 7 and 8 only. This style of union suit is particularly desirable for fall and winter wearing for little folks.

Regular 75c value.

Ladies' Union Suits Special 40c

We are cleaning out three lines of ladies' ribbed union suits that were priced $1.00. Sizes are complete, in white only; the styles are:

- (1) Umbrella, finely ribbed, silk finished neck.
- (2) Same material, with high neck and long sleeves.
- (3) Same material with high neck and sleeves.

Ladies Handkerchiefs Special . . . 5c ea.

One big lot of scalloped and hem-stitched Swiss embroidered handkerchiefs. They are a good, durable kind and it would be a wise investment to take a dozen of them at this special price.

Ladies' Black Hosiery

We always speak with confidence of our ladies' hosiery; each grade is the very best value that can be secured in the world's markets. There is one particular grade which is commendable for its exceeding durability. It is a highly mercerized, fast black stocking, woven with particular strength and weight at the toes and heels, and is a very good value at 50c pair

Fall Neckwear Novelties

Yokes and chemisettes are as popular as ever and the many novelties that have come with the new season guarantee a continuance of this popularity. These novelties come in Irish point, Venise and net faces and are specially adapted to adorn the new fall waists.

Grades are

85c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and to $3.75 ea.

Sole and sole to Lincoln-Roosevelt League.

The formation of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League cannot be the topic of discussion by the press and is occasionally in private conversation. We see no occasion for perturbation. The right to assemble and organize is an inalienable one, and there is assemblage and organization to promote laudable ends deserve encouragement. If gentlemen gather that each may find an audience when he desires to talk it is surely no offense to the law nor an unfair proceeding unless some member of the league does more than his share of the talking and gets an undue portion of the advertising.

The gentlemen composing the Lincoln-Roosevelt League say they have organized to promote the Republican principles typified by Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. This is entirely worthy and honorable. Surely no Republican will object to the furtherance of such principles. Indeed, it is the duty of every Republican to aid and promote those principles.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt Leaguers say their purpose is to purify the Republican party and release it from corporation control. That is entirely proper and laudable. If the Republican party is in need of saprophyte and scrubbing, there should be no objection to the gentlemen of the league applying themselves to the task. If any corporation manager has jumped the Republican claim he should be ejected. If any man pulls down the Republican flag shoot him on the spot. If the principles of Lincoln and Roosevelt are being run over by any railroad train, that train ought to be ditched.

Our friends of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League announce that they propose to take control of the Republican organization in California (and, incidentally, of the offices), and run it in accordance with the ideas of the Sugar Trust, J. Lincoln, the hero of the muckraker, Dunc McPherson, the hereditary prince of graft, and the attorneys for various railroad and corporate interests. This is also their right and privilege, provided they do not break their suspenders nor do violence to the ballot. It is lawful to stuff the public, but unfair and unladylike to stuff the ballot.

It is sometimes discouraging to find the patriots who are fighting for the old flag and reform fighting the devil with fire and branding politics with Hungry Joe. Moreover, the unselfishness of public-spirited gentlemen who denounce the evils of monopoly while grabbing railway franchises, public lands and water rights is sometimes questioned by the incredulous and evil-minded. It may be remarked that the cry of down with the trusts sounds a little queer in the throats of trust magnates and corporation lawyers.

But base suspicion should not be allowed to interfere with the work of reform. Nor should the politician who has lost his seat at the pie counter be suspected of other than lofty and disinterested motives. When a man enlists to fight the trusts he should be trusted and not insulted with the ignoble suspicion that he is looking for a bounty or a chance to loot. The Lincoln-Roosevelt League is vociferous evidence that patriotism and virtue are not dead yet.

However, it may not be amiss to remark that the principles of Lincoln and Roosevelt are the common property of all Republicans. They cannot be copyrighted or trade-marked by any individual or association of individuals. They cannot be monopolized by any trust, railroad corporation or politician. They are not in the special guardianship of any particular person or organization. They cannot be appropriated as a private possession by anybody. They are for all men during all time, and are not in need of pickling and preserving by alarmed patriots, however virtuous and self-sacrificing. They will live and vindicate themselves in spite of machines, harpists, job-chasers and the mercenaries of trusts and spoils politics. Being a common heritage, they constitute a legacy that every citizen may enjoy and administer. The gentlemen composing the Lincoln-Roosevelt League have an equal right in common with all other Republicans in the principles of which Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt have exemplified with such lustre. But no more. They cannot deny others a share in those principles nor excommunicate anybody from the Republican communion. There is only one Republican church, and it has no Pope or Czar, though Father John, Judas Iscariot and the Vicar of Bray are sometimes found trying to lead the choir and administer the sacrament.

The Federal government has taken the extraordinary and suggestive step of transferring the United States District Attorney, located at Los Angeles, to Portland, Or., to prosecute the land fraud cases there, and the United States District Attorney, quartered at Portland, has been shifted to Los Angeles to take charge of the Imperial Valley land frauds. It is evident that the department of justice is determined that in the trial of these cases its officers shall be alienated from all local influences which constitute doubtless an important factor in the attainment of results.

Pennsylvania's Suppression of Nuisances.

Pittsburg, Pa., is not only afflicted with smoke, but with an iron ore dust nuisance also, and, bad as the former is, the latter is described as incomparably worse. About three years ago, residents of certain parts of the city brought suit against furnace owners whose properties were valued at $5,000,000 to enjoin their operation unless the iron ore dust nuisance was suppressed. The company is said to have spent $500,000 since then trying to arrest the escape of the dust, without success. But the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has granted a deaf ear to the plea of the defendant corporation that the nuisance cannot be maintained without treating the dust nuisance, and the court says it must suppress the nuisance or go out of business. That industries representing a capitalization of nearly $5,000,000 were affected by the decision had no influence with the court. The preservation of the public health is paramount to all considerations of money-making. Largely capitalized industries are immune from the common rule that every business must be so conducted as not to create a nuisance whereby others are caused to suffer.

The Pennsylvania decision has a direct bearing on the operation of every smelter in this State. Drastic regulations have been put into effect at Selby to minimize the nuisance created by the roasting and smelting of sulphurous and arsenical ores which are damaging property and menacing life across Carquinez Strait in Solano county, and to get rid of the injunction suits which have for years interfered with the smelting of the rich copper ores of Shasta county the Mountain Copper Company and other copper-mining corporations there have been compelled either to compensate owners of land lying within the path of the poisonous fumes of their smelters for the damage they are doing to orchards and other crops and to the people of live stock, or they have been forced to buy, outright, the land over which these fumes pass. If the Guggenheims persist in carrying out their program for the establishment and operation of a mammoth smelting plant at Baden they will have to submit to the same rule of action or keep the works closed and suffer the loss of the investment in them. But in their case, the purchase of property directly affected by the smelter fumes or the payment of compensation for the damage done will mean the disbursement of millions where immunity from prosecution by smelting companies in other parts of the State has been secured by the outlay of comparatively few thousands of dollars. The principle laid down in the Pennsylvania decision is, however, perfectly sound and will doubtless apply with equal force in this State. If the smelting companies cannot, therefore, filter the poisonous ingredients out of the fumes before the latter are discharged through the smokestacks of the furnaces into the air they must either pay the penalties imposed upon them or go out of business. An industry which threatens the life of all others cannot be tolerated, however important it may otherwise appear to be and however profitable it may prove to its operators.

The people of Kennett have branded the charge made by Redding that the town's water supply is being polluted by the discharge of sewage into the Sacramento river as Kennett and Coram as an immitigated falsehood, by the simple but amusing process of quoting from a Redding paper a recent statement showing that the water company supplying that town has been drawing its supply from a neighboring slough in order to save the cost of pumping from the river. Score one for Kennett.

A San Francisco inventor of a device for promptly reversing automobiles to prevent collisions and pronounced infallible, was "hoist by his own petard" the other night when he had to head his auto for a telegraph pole to stop it from running down a hay wagon. The telegraph pole accomplished all right what the reversing device failed to do, but it left the auto as complete a wreck as the experience made of the infallibility of the invention.

A Reno-dispatch says that bullion tax statistics show that the rate of output of the best three mines in Goldfield is $2,000,000 a month. If the statement is not made solely to stimulate stock speculation and the rate of production continues undiminished, Nevada ought this year to head the list of gold-producing States, for Goldfield is only one of many productive camps in it.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

"If employers would give the waiters, say, 5 per cent of the amount of the bill of guests that they serve it would be a satisfactory arrangement all around," suggests a Baltimore man.

"The waiter would have just as much object as ever in having the customer give him a big order and would therefore try to please him. The customer would not have to forsake his natural principles against tipping in order to get good service and the hotel or restaurant that followed the plan and didn't allow tips would get so much more business that the proprietor could easily afford the 5 per cent commission."

Most American women on returning from a residence in Paris are amazed at the way in which New York members of their sex use perfume. One woman who made a lengthy sojourn in the French capital and who stopped in New York for a week or two on her way home declares that in stores of the latter city she was almost "knocked down" by the odors of such perfumes: "It is so different in Paris," she said, "where a woman uses only a few drops of perfume."

There is always a delicate odor about her of the sachet powder she keeps laid away in her chiffonier with her linens, but never perfume. The odor of the sachet is never fragrant.

In the Manila Times of May it appears the following: "Callers at the Paris building this morning enjoyed the sight of a snake skin of mammoth proportions. It was that of a boa constrictor shot forty miles north of Zamboanga by two American prospectors. Bell and Newman. The skin measures twenty-nine feet, but Mr. Wickham, who brought the skin to Manila, says when first killed the snake measured 30 feet 6 inches. At the time it was shot the constrictor had just seized a deer by the nose and was choking off its wind. The constrictor received a charge of buckshot full in the neck and fell without a struggle. The wound is now represented by a jagged hole in the skin about three inches in diameter. Mr. Wickham says he has seen one constrictor even larger, thirty-six feet. For the purpose of conveying the specimen that there are such monsters in these islands he has secured a small snake, which he has named 'The Manila Snake'."

YES, THE MAN WHO STAYS AT HOME AND "KEEPS HOUSE" WHILE HIS WIFE IS AWAY HAS A SEASON OF FREEDOM, BUT THEN—

BATH-HOUSE PEEPING TOM IS SCALDED AND DUCKED

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Harvey Bowen saw a well-dressed man crawling about beneath the bath house at the foot of Twentieth street, Coney Island, yesterday. Leaving the bath house without alarming him she armed herself with a pail of scalding hot water. In a few minutes she heard the man crawling about under the compartment she was in. Without warning she poured the steaming hot water over the head, face and shoulders of the "Peeping Tom."

His yell of pain quickly brought a great crowd of women bathers about the pavilion. Mrs. Bowen shouted that the man screaming and struggling about in the sand beneath the bath house and almost blinded by the hot water was a "Peeping Tom." While the women were trying to locate him the man wriggled out from beneath the bath houses and ran across the beach in an effort to escape. A score of the women bathers, unhampered by long skirts, ran after him and easily captured him.

"Let's drown him," one excited woman screamed.

This seemed to be the wish of all the other women, and the man was dragged, yelling and struggling, to the beach. He struck at the women who were holding him, but only angered them the more. He was quickly overpowered and dragged into the water.

Twenty or more women joined in ducking him. The man yelled for help, but each time he opened his mouth he was shoved under water again. Exhausted by his own struggles and the repeated duckings he had received, the man quit fighting and was shoved, pushed and beaten about in the water by the women. The husbands of several of the women became alarmed when he stopped struggling, and rushed out and dragged their wives away. Scarcely able to breathe, the man was hauled up on the beach. While lying on the sand trying to regain his breath, the man was repeatedly attacked by the women bathers, who even then did not believe he had been sufficiently punished. It was some time before Coney's first peeper of the season was able to walk away.

SOCIETY: NEWS OF THE SMART SET

The marriage of Miss Irene Naisbitt and Bernard Read will take place this evening at the home of the bride in Telegraph avenue. The ceremony will be marked by the greatest simplicity and half a hundred relatives and close friends are invited. The officiating clergyman will be the Rev. Paul Stewart of the United Presbyterian Church.

The bride will wear a pretty gown of pale blue silk and a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair. Miss Hazel Naisbitt, gowned in a champagne colored silk, will be her sister's only attendant. Tom Caton will act as best man. After a wedding supper and informal reception Mr. and Mrs. Read will leave for the East, where they intend to spend a month. They will return to make their home in this city, where the groom is associated with the Farmers & Merchants Bank.

DOUBLE ENGAGEMENT. Mrs. G. Worthington announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Verne, to Bert Gochman, a prosperous young farmer of Calistoga, and Miss Ethel, to Lewis Pierce, a prominent contractor of this city. The date for the double wedding is not announced, but it will take place this year and doubtless will be a pretty event.

THOMAS-KING. The news just received that the marriage of Miss Helen Frances Thomas and Boswell King took place in New York will come as a pleasant surprise to their friends here.

The bride is the daughter of Beverly G. Thomas of New York, but for many years she made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Wakefield Baker, in Pacific avenue, attending school in this city and later graduating from Miss Head's institution in Berkeley. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick King, of Menlo Park, a graduate of the University of California and while in San Francisco passed the greater part of his time at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Horace Davis.

This marriage unites two old and well-known families, the bride being a lineal descendant of Oliver Wolcott, one of the signers of the declaration of independence, and the groom being a grandson of the patriot, Thomas Starr King. When King went East recently it was supposed generally that it was for the purpose of placing his younger brother, Starr King, at the naval academy, and that this was the sole object of his trip. Mr. and Mrs. King are now on their way to the coast and entertainments will be given by society folk in their honor on their arrival here.

AT SUMMER HOME. George Boas, the enterprising young manager of Uhl Brothers' Company, wholesale wallpaper dealers of San Francisco, has just left for his three weeks' vacation. He is to sojourn with his friends, the Dorasas, of Berkeley, who are at their summer home at "The Geysers."

HOME WEDDING. The marriage of Miss Melville Rita Church and Lauren C. Ward, of Cotati, took place Wednesday, August 7, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. Church, at 570 East Seventeenth street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Brook, pastor of the Tenth avenue Baptist Church.

The house was decorated with blossoms and greenery and the marriage vows were pledged beneath a floral canopy. Many friends and relatives of the young couple were present. Following congratulations the bride and bridegroom left on their honeymoon trip.

The wedding was the sequel of a romance begun several days after the earthquake of April 18, 1906. Ward was in San Francisco at the time of the temblor, and with the thousands of others came to Oakland as a refugee. While seeking for a home he met Miss Church and their acquaintance led eventually to their betrothal. Ward has accepted an offer of a mercantile firm at Independence and he and his bride will make their home there.

AT LUNCHEON. Mrs. E. Horrick was hostess recently at a pretty luncheon given at the Carlton in Berkeley for a dozen friends. The complimented guest was Mrs. George Horrick, who before her marriage a few weeks ago was Miss Burnie Owens of San Francisco.

MUSICAL AFFAIRS. Miss Alice Gates was hostess Wednesday evening at one of the delightful musical affairs of the week given at the studio in Berkeley. An hour of music was followed by an informal supper. The evening was in compliment to Mrs. J. E. de Jernott and Miss Hattie de Jernott, of Colusa, who are spending the summer here.

Among those who contributed to the program were Warren Allen, the pianist, Mrs. Edward Holly McPike and John Hillman of San Francisco, pupils of Miss Gates. Miss Gates sang several lyric selections and a number of dramatic tone poems.

A BEREAVEMENT. The friends of Mrs. William Waldeck Biers, formerly Miss Zetta Fuller, are extending their sincere sympathy in the recent death of her father, M. J. Fuller, at his home on Thirty-fifth street.

HAS RETURNED. W. Baskford Smith, formerly of Harrison street, this city, has just returned from a year's tour of the world. Besides visiting the principal cities of Europe, he stopped in Hawaii, Samoa, Fiji Islands, New Zealand, Australia, Tasmania and South Africa. In almost every country he secured curios, which added to his already extensive collection. He is stopping at the Hotel Athens and expects to remain in Oakland.

OUTDOOR AFFAIR. A party of friends enjoyed a delightful outing and luncheon yesterday afternoon in the hills above Fruitvale. Among those who participated in the affair were Miss Julia Fraser, Miss Eva Powell, Miss Bradetta Smith, Miss Laura McKnight, Miss Charlotte Canty, Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. Kate Potter, Mrs. A. J. McKnight, Mrs. C. E. Kinard, Mrs. W. B. Compton and several others.

GOING EAST. George W. Schmitt, of 1160 Webster street, left yesterday morning for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will attend the national convention of the Master Ship Model Workers as a representative of San Francisco and Alameda counties. While in the East Schmitt expects to visit the foundries of the famous Floral City Furnaces as well as looking up other business interests and visiting friends and relatives in Chicago, St. Louis and Denver.

GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Abraham L. Mendelson will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, August 18, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. M. Falk. Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson were born in Germany but have lived on the coast for many years. They were married in the East and later made their home in Portland, Oregon.

They have six children, all living, and five of them are residents of Oakland. They are Mrs. B. Berdovich, Mrs. L. Shuman, Mrs. M. Falk, Leonard, Aaron, and Sam Mendelson, all well known in Oakland.

There will be a dinner for the family at the home of Mrs. Falk in the afternoon. A reception will be held later to which all the many friends of the Mendelsons are invited.

DIVORCE COLONY OF SOUTH DAKOTA STIRRED BY SUIT

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 9.—Whether or not Mrs. Elizabeth B. Reeves, the former wife of Harry L. Reeves, a prominent resident of Philadelphia, now is the lawful wife of Edward Ritter Walls, a prominent contractor of Philadelphia, will be determined as the result of a suit which has been instituted in the State Circuit Court.

Reeves is the plaintiff in the suit and seeks to have a South Dakota divorce decree obtained by Mrs. Reeves vacated and declared null and void. Excitement has been created among the members of the divorce colony in this city because of the divorce action in this city because of the commencement of the action for the reason that some of the colonists fear that in due time they may be defendants in similar actions.

Mrs. Reeves obtained her decree of divorce in the State Circuit Court of Lincoln county at Canton on August 6, 1906. After getting the divorce, the plaintiff immediately left South Dakota, returning to Philadelphia and going from there to New York, where, on August 11, 1906, she married Edward Ritter Walls.

Later the pair returned to Philadelphia, where they now live. Although the papers in the annulment proceedings have been filed at Canton, the arguments upon the motion to annul the divorce are fixed before Judge Jones of the State Circuit Court in this city. Reeves seeks to have the divorce declared void on the ground that Mrs. Reeves was not a bonafide resident of South Dakota and that the courts here were without jurisdiction.

ELOPING LAWYER LOSES NERVE; DISGUSTS BRIDE

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—Though a lawyer and clubman, A. J. Cunningham Jr. lost his nerve at a critical juncture while eloping with Miss Myrtila Dobbins, an heiress of Proctorville, O., and all but lost his bride in consequence.

The two had successfully reached Ironton, O., and were in the office of the Probate Judge ready for the ceremony, when the telephone of that official began to ring. At the other end of the wire, thirty miles away, was Mrs. Dobbins, who urged the judge not to issue a license for her daughter's marriage.

When the Probate Judge communicated the message to the waiting couple, Lawyer Cunningham looked helplessly at the pretty bride at his side and said: "I don't know what to do."

The girl stared at him pitifully a moment and said with marked emphasis:

"We came here to be married and if you don't know what to do, I do," and, catching up her dainty skirts, ran out of the courthouse.

That brought Cunningham's courage back and he darted after her. There were a few moments of earnest conversation and then the two re-entered the courtroom and the lawyer insisted that a license be issued and the ceremony performed.

The bride has $250,000 of her own. Cunningham's sister formerly tutored the Dobbins girls, who later became visitors at the Cunningham house, No. 5187 Harvey avenue, Avondale, a suburb of Cincinnati. It was in this way the young lawyer met the girl who showed such resolution.

'BUNGALOWITIS' ATTACKS WEALTHY WOMEN IN EAST

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Weary of most other fads, society rapidly is acquiring the bungalow habit. Men and women whose common sense might be expected to save them from aping a whim of Oriental life seem to have become daft over it. One of the chief bungalow scolds is Mrs. Genevieve Phipps, who in her interesting career has graced Pittsburgh, Denver and New York, and now is decorating Newport. She ever has been in the van of the mode, and the gossips have her negotiating for a toy wilderness in Long Island, wherein she may lead the life of the idealized Anglo-Indian to her heart's content.

Mrs. Phipps experimented with her hotel cottage in fashion's Rhode Island colony, but the bonfire set his face sternly against too many alterations, no matter how much the matron was willing to pay for the privilege. So, realizing she must have a place that shall be her very own if she wishes to indulge her fancy to the full, the ex-former Pittsburgher is to become a nearer neighbor of her friends in Manhattan.

She plans her bungalow shall be an exact reproduction of the type common in the hill district of India. It will cover a large area and will have rooms for many guests, for Mrs. Phipps has no intention of making a recluse of herself. Indeed, it is said her Long Island entertaining will be more lavish than anything in her history.

Nor is Mrs. Phipps the only society woman to be afflicted with bungalowitis. Mrs. Craig Biddle has it in an aggravated form. Everybody who knows Philadelphia knows Mrs. Biddle, and everybody who knows Mrs. Biddle knows she is not to be outdone by any competitor.

It is whispered all along the line between the Quaker City and Gotham that Mrs. Biddle's bungalow is to be built entirely of teakwood as to its exterior construction, and that the walls and ceilings will be marvels of Oriental marquetry. The whole building will be lighted by those swinging lamps so suggestive of the delights of Delhi and the subtleties of Singapore. Indian draperies are to swing in doorways and clouds of incense to roll from unexpected corners, possibly to keep off the mosquitoes, for which certain suburbs of the Brotherly Love City are notorious.

The Biddles are expected to bid their friends to their bungalow in droves, and if the precedent they have set in ordinary domiciles is followed, they are not likely to disappoint the expectation.

KISSING TIME

'Tis when the lark goes soaring
And the bee is on the bud,
When lightly dancing zephyrs
Sing over field and flood;
When all sweet things in nature
Seem joyfully aching—
'Tis then I wake my darling,
For it is kissing time!

Go, pretty Lark, a-soaring,
And suck your sweets, O bee;
Sing, O ye winds of Summer,
Your songs and mine to me;
For with your song and rapture
Cometh the moment when
It's half-past kissing time
And time to kiss again.

So—so the days go fleeting
Like golden fancies free,
And every day that cometh
Is full of sweets for me;
And sweetest are those moments
My darling comes to climb
Into my lap to mind me
That it is kissing time.

Sometimes, maybe, he wanders
A heedless, aimless way—
Sometimes, maybe, he loiters
In pretty, prattling play;
But presently be thinks him
And hastens to me then,
For it's half-past kissing time
And time to kiss again.

—Eugene Field.

GIRL USHERS PROVE GOOD DRAWING CARD AT CHURCH

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal Church, Manayunk, which replaced its girl ushers with men ten months ago, has once more called on the young women, in order to awaken a greater interest in services during the hot weather.

The Rev. Everett D. Decker, pastor of the church, has arranged a series of special sermons for August and September, and he has requested the young women of his congregation to act as ushers during that time.

A year ago the Girl Ushers' Association was originated in Ebenezer Church by Charles A. Flanagan, an enthusiastic worker in the congregation. During the hot weather last year the girls were on duty, seating the congregation and taking the offering.

Early in the winter the president of the ushers' association of the church replaced them with men ushers, declaring that the white dresses worn by the girls would endanger their health in the winter.

During the two months they were on duty the girls became popular and their popularity has not been forgotten. The members of the congregation agree that while the young men do very well, they are not like the girls, and so they will return to duty next Sunday.

FATHER OF 28 CHILDREN; SAYS HE DESIRES OTHERS

FORT LAVACA, Tex., Aug. 9.—A ten-pound boy has arrived at the home of the Rev. Abraham C. Ruebush, a Methodist minister, and it is his twenty-eighth. The father, who is sixty-five years old, says he wants more children. He has twelve boys and sixteen girls, of these six boys and seven girls were his first wife.

The Rev. Mr. Ruebush's grandfather, John Ruebush, of Staunton, Va., lived to be ninety-one years old and his grand-mother died at eighty-four. They had even dozen children, whose descendants number sixty.

The Rev. Mr. Ruebush was wounded five times in his forty-one battles in the Confederate ranks. With his right leg shot off, at the age of twenty-one years, he was brought home, and, thinking he was dying, was married. But instead of dying he got well.

The "Knee Bracelet"

Will the garter ever be finally ousted from the wardrobe of the dainty women in favor of the stocking-suspender? There is no doubt which holds the palm in the way of appearance, for it is doubtful if the most elaborate set of suspenders could ever vie in charm with a comparatively simple pair of garters, and now that flowers and lace and brilliant buckles and buttons are being requisitioned for the garter, the contest seems quite unequal. Among various styles of garters which may be copied by the home worker at quite half their ready-made cost is one of satin ribbon, with a rosette bow and ends finished with lace appliques. This touch of lace at the ends gives the distinguishing mark. Another charming garter of soft satin ribbon is edged with fine lace and completed with a smart bow, having three loops at the top and four considerably longer, which do duty for "ends." A very fairy-like creation is one in which two frills of lace entirely cover the satin foundation, and which is trimmed at intervals with tiny tufts of bebe velvet ribbon. A smart garter is made of ruched ribbon and bebe velvet ribbon, and waterfall of loops trimmed with tiny gilt buttons. Prettiest of all is the chic garter of satin Mary ribbon and Maltese lace, finished off with

RICHMOND LAD IS SURPRISED

Elmer Conn's Young Friends Find Pleasure Celebrating His Anniversary.

RICHMOND, Aug. 9.—A surprise party was given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Conn to celebrate the ninth birthday anniversary of their son Elmer. Quite a number of the young playmates of the lad were present and all enjoyed themselves immensely with games, music and other diversions. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Elmer and Ralph Follett, Jodie and Walter Lamore, Olive and Myrtle Conn, Uldine and Roy Adams, Bonnie Strong, Opal Marsh, Jean and Edwin Nicolson, Lynn Freeman, Dorothy and Robert Ellis, Donald Church, Mildred Palmer, Irene Conn, Marie Jenkins, Liberty Matison, Ivan and Elmer Conn.

Miss Jessie Baldwin, who has been visiting the past week at the home of Mrs. C. B. Adams, on Martin street, has returned to her home in Stockton.

Ons P. Christian and Miss Mary Perry were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. F. C. R. Jackson.

Unfavorable reports are brought from the bedside of Mrs. Pearl Frisby, who was recently burned by an explosion of gasoline. She is said to be a mass of blisters from her head to her feet, and to add to her serious condition she gave birth to a babe yesterday which died. It is the opinion of the attending physician that Mrs. Frisby will not recover.

G. W. Topping, formerly manager of the telephone exchange at this place, but lately of Ely Nevada, is in town on a visit to his family. Mr. Topping is the owner of a fine home in this city and has other property interests here. He expects to remain in this city two or three weeks before returning to Nevada.

Attorney Lee D. Windrem will depart Saturday for Lake County on a week's visit to his wife and little son, who are spending the summer with Mr. Windrem's folks near Lakeport. While he is absent Attorney McBride will attend to his law practice.

The Misses Hattie and Oella Corl, who have been visiting relatives in this city the past week, left Wednesday afternoon for their home in Nevada. They will stop at Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs and Kansas City en route.

City Clerk H. H. Turley went to Martinez yesterday to attend to some matters regarding the city's municipal taxes at the county assessor's office.

The new cars of the East Shore and Suburban Railway Company, ordered last spring from the St. Louis Car Company, arrived at this place yesterday. The cars are being installed at the powerhouse of the company near the Southern Pacific depot. They are of the vestibule type and are very similar in every way to those already operated by the company.

TO HUNT.
Attorney Abe P. Leach, Dr. H. B. Neumann, R. A. Crabbe and Dr. H. B. Neumann leave tomorrow for a two weeks' hunting and outing trip in Mendocino county. The hunters will leave on the train for Cloverdale and go from there into the Mendocino hills by wagon. They are looking for big game, deer especially.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

The deep, underlying cause of every old sore is a bad condition of the blood. This vital fluid has become infected with some germ or poison which prevents the place from healing. This infection may be the result of an active, sluggish condition of the system leaving the refuse matter in the body to be absorbed into the circulation instead of throwing it off through the usual channels of nature. Another cause is the weakening or polluting of this life-stream from hereditary taints, or from the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system. When the blood is in this condition a sore cannot heal because the impurities with which the circulation is filled are being constantly discharged into the place to irritate and inflame the tissues and further disease the surrounding flesh. The only treatment that can do any good is one that removes the cause, and for this purpose nothing equals S.S.S. It begins at the fountain head of the trouble and drives out all germs, impurities and poisons, and then the place, being supplied with rich, pure blood, heals naturally and permanently. Local applications assist in cleansing the place, but a cure can only be effected through a purification of the blood. Book on Sore and Ulcers and any medical advice free.

A memorial service will be held at Grace Episcopal church, where he will rest, of respect to the memory of Miss Albertine Bernick, who perished in the Columbia wreck, she having been highly esteemed member of that church.

STAGE COACH DAYS ARE GONE

Electric Omnibuses Entirely Drive Horses From Business in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—With the auction sale on Wednesday of all the Fifth Avenue Coach Company's horses, omnibuses, stages and harnesses, the last of the stage coach passed away from New York. The new electric omnibuses, with a fare of ten cents, have now completely replaced the old system on Fifth avenue.

The first public stage for local service made its appearance in New York in June, 1850. It ran hourly between Wall and Bleecker streets. In time the stages ran on all the principal streets and connected all the principal points of the city. They came to represent an invested capital of more than $1,000,000.

Instead of street car accidents and automobile collisions, people in those days read of the stage drivers striking and the rule compelling them to wear tail hats or of stage coach races between rival drivers down Broadway. Then the stage lines were supplanted by street cars and now their last stronghold has been stormed by the automobile.

FATAL SHOT ENDS OUTING

Bride While Out Camping Drops Her Gun and is Wounded

Frantically.

CAZADERO, Aug. 9.—Mrs. M. L. Brown, a bride of a few weeks, accidentally shot herself with a rifle here Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who reside at Stockton, were spending their vacation here at Cazadero, where they are enthusiastic hunters.

Mrs. Brown, with others, was returning from a hunt and in passing through a narrow trail tripped over the root of a tree. She fell to the ground, and the rifle she was carrying dropped from her hands and exploded.

The bullet lodged in the stomach from the left side, cutting the intestines.

Mrs. Matthews, who was with Mrs. Brown at the time of the accident, ran hurriedly to the camp and got assistance and a doctor was summoned from Jenner.

For many hours it was decided that if Mrs. Brown's life could be saved it would be necessary to remove her to a hospital in the metropolis and she was accordingly hurried there. The wound is exceedingly fatal.

THREE NAVAL HEROES ARE APPROPRIATELY HONORED

Beautiful Memorial Window Unveiled at St. Peter's Chapel, Mare Island, With Impressive Ceremonies.

VALLERIO, Aug. 9.—At St. Peter's chapel, on the Mare Island Navy Yard, a beautiful memorial window was unveiled yesterday morning to commemorate the lives and achievements of Rear Admiral John D. Sloat, Commodore Robert F. Stockton and Admiral D. G. Farragut, three famous naval heroes, who were honored with the expedition sent by the United States government to take possession of the territory bordering the Pacific ocean, to confirm the authority of the United States and to establish the Mare Island Navy Yard.

The chapel was festively decorated for the occasion. The unveiling of the window was accompanied by impressive ceremonies. A number of invited men and people from this city, Oakland and San Francisco were present, among whom were a number of prominent members of the United States Navy and the United States Army.

Chaplain McAllister, at the opening of the ceremonies stated that the window had been purchased with funds donated by prominent merchants in San Francisco, the Native Sons of the Golden West and relatives of the gallant officers.

ONLY NAVY YARD CHAPEL.

Senator Perkins praised the eulogy of the lives of Admiral Farragut and Commodore Stockton by saying that there are eleven navy yards and several coaling stations in the United States, and among all this is the only one where a chapel is commemorated to the Christian religion.

Madon B. A. Sherman made a short address dwelling on the life of Rear Admiral Sloat who took an active part in the capture of California in 1846.

B. J. McKnight of this city, on behalf of the donors, presented the window to Rear Admiral Lyons, who accepted it for the navy.

STOLEN GIRL FINDS PARENTS

Young Woman, Kidnaped When Babe, to Return to Her Home.

WOODLAND, Aug. 8.—After fourteen years of separation caused by her abduction, Miss Sudora C. Kingsley is about to return to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kingsley, in this city. When Miss Kingsley was four years of age she was kidnaped in this city and her parents, who are deaf and dumb, have waited anxiously during the many years for some word of their daughter. Mrs. Mary Porter, aunt of Miss Kingsley, received a letter from her several days ago, saying that she was safe and that she was coming to Woodland to see her parents, who, she had been informed, were still living. The girl is in Phoenix, Ariz., and will start for this city within a few days.

NATIVE SON KNOWLAND.

Congressman J. R. Knowland, representing the grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, thanked Chaplain McAllister in behalf of the 15,000 members of his order for his efforts in securing the window for the Navy Yard.

It was a most appropriate time to meet to pay tribute to the naval heroes who were their saviors on the Pacific coast, as there was never a time when the people of the world were more interested in the Pacific.

CADETS WORKING HARD FOR SUCCESS OF DANCE

SEASON'S BIG AFFAIR

Proceeds of Ball to Go to Armory Fund.

Arrangements are progressing splendidly for the midsummer dance of the 1st Regiment, League of the Cadets, at Central Hall, on Tuesday evening, August 13th. A good many of them have been spending their leisure time in the country and to be able to attend such an affair as the cadets are planning will hasten their return to the city. All members are working hard toward making this dance a great success. They wish to make it a most memorable event.

The net proceeds realized will be expended in furnishing the new armory fund. The committee of arrangements under the direction of Sergeant G. L. Courtney, chairman, are making the most of the season. The following members are on this committee:

Sergeant G. L. Courtney, chairman; Sergeant H. J. Fazakerly, musician J. P.

SERG. H. J. FAZAKERLY.

Callaghan; Privates J. P. Flannery, J. F. Kearney, G. Ahern, G. P. Brady and F. X. Smith.

LUMBER RATE EAST TO BE ADVANCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—There will be an increase on the rate on lumber from 5 cents to 10 cents a hundred pounds from common shipping points on the Pacific slope to all points East on October 1 next.

The new rate will go into effect on the line of the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

The present low rate was put into effect to introduce Pacific coast lumber in the Eastern markets. It found favor rapidly with builders all over the country and now there are several hundreds of cars sent East daily laden with the product of Western mills.

One agency alone handles from 2500 to 3000 cars a year of redwood shingles to all points east and as far as the Atlantic seaboard.

SOLDIER ROSE MUST PAY FINE OF $150

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Judge Shortall was in a lenient frame of mind this morning. He was open to persuasion, and when Fred H. Rose, a soldier, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, begged the mercy of the court, the judge said he might see fit to reduce the charge to one of battery.

The offense committed by Rose occurred last Tuesday. While drinking with another soldier on the Barbary Coast, he became involved in an altercation with several other men, and when Policeman Ogden endeavored to interfere, Rose picked up a rock and hurled it at the officer's head, inflicting a severe scalp wound.

This morning, the captain of his company told Judge Shortall that, should the defendant be convicted of a felony, he would lose his rank in the army. He therefore prayed that the court be lenient in the case.

Judge Shortall explained to the captain that an assault on a peace officer is in a way more grievous than

ACQUITTED; RETAKEN FOR SAME CRIME

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—William Bannon was acquitted of the charge of grand larceny in Judge Shortall's court one day last week. But nevertheless he was again arrested on an early hour this morning by Policeman M. V. Burke on the same charge.

It seems that at the time of the original complaint against Bannon, a description of him was sent to each of the precinct stations. After his arrest, the Mission Station failed to withdraw the orders to the officers to arrest him on sight, consequently, when Policeman Burke spotted him walking along Eleventh street today, he immediately took him into custody. When the matter was explained to Judge Weller this morning, he dismissed the case.

On the request of the attorneys of the defense, the matter went over until Monday.

an assault on a private citizen, and he said he could not condone the offense. He stated, however, that if Rose would plead guilty to a charge of battery and pay a fine of $150, he would dismiss the case.

DECKHAND LARSEN IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Alfred Larsen, former chief deckhand of the Southern Pacific freight steamer Transit, who attempted to break out of his cell in the city prison on Tuesday last, was held for the action of the Superior Court by Police Judge Smith this morning on a charge of petty larceny and prior conviction.

Larsen was arrested in connection with the wholesale freight robbery which was discovered by the Southern Pacific detectives a few weeks ago. He is believed to be the head of an organized gang of thieves who have robbed the railroad company of nearly $25,000 worth of supplies.

HURT IN COLLISION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Joseph Crampton, fifteen years old, living at 37 Sherran street, suffered a severe injury to his right leg in a collision on Market street this morning.

Young Crampton was riding his bicycle down the hill between Octavia and Laguna streets when in some unaccountable way he lost control of the machine and crashed into a Valencia street car at the crossing.

He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital and treated for severe wounds of the head and face and contusion of the right leg. It was found necessary to amputate four toes on the right foot.

SENDS 2 MEN TO HOSPITAL

Policeman Poulter Accused of Cutting Faces of Those He Arrests.

For the second time in as many nights Warden James M. Page at the Receiving Hospital has been obliged to dress gashes in the cheeks of two men who claim to have been struck in the face by Policeman Al Poulter. Policeman Reinhart, who was on the police patrol wagon, told Warden Page early this morning when he took Thomas Hogan to the Receiving Hospital, that Hogan had been struck by the same officer as Charles Blumel had been the night before. Inquiry at the city prison showed that Poulter was the arresting officer of Hogan.

Hogan is a young millhand and lives at Seventh and Bush streets. Early this morning he says he was walking home when the officer went up to him and accused him of stealing a piece of wire the bluecoat held in his hand. Hogan says he had been drinking a little, but was not staggering when he told the officer he was mistaken. Nevertheless he was taken to the Sixth street lockup and there he says the officer "punched" him in the face.

SENT TO HOSPITAL.

Hogan was taken to the city prison and booked by Poulter about 1:40 a. m. An hour later, after the ragged wound in his right cheek would not stop bleeding, he was sent to the Receiving Hospital in the patrol and Warden Page took two stitches in the wound. Hogan claims the officer was too "fresh" and by the policeman's readiness to use his fists, Hogan says, he will be forced to lose his employment at a first street planing mill.

Charles Blumel, a young German blacksmith of 612 Twelfth avenue, had to have two stitches taken in his left cheek this night before, which Officer Reinhart says was inflicted by Poulter.

HOUSE FULL OF ART MARVELS

Morgan Has $10,000,000 Collection and Keeps Piling Up Such Treasures.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Daily Mail today publishes an interview with one of the foreign delegates which is, at the same time, a review of the art treasures contained in the Princess Gate mansion of the American financier, J. P. Morgan. In describing the wonders, he said:

"We traversed a series of beautiful rooms, in which articles of fabulous worth were strewn about broadcast. 'I saw in the course of a brief half hour visit in this house, marvels of art from every corner of the world which must have represented a total value of close upon $10,000,000.

"Pictures by the most famous painters of all time cover the walls, each being illuminated by an electric light. 'The owner of this vast wealth of art treasures was absent but I learned that he had been obliged to knock several houses into one to accommodate this ever-increasing collection.

"I heard incidentally that Morgan has thirty artists engaged in the production of hand-painted volumes dealing with the miniatures of his marvelous collection. Each of these books will cost $500, and it is stated they will be presented to the crowned heads of Europe."

WILL DECIDE THE BIG GRAFT CASES MONDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Responding to an inquiry, Chief Justice Beatty of the Supreme Court today informed the Associated Press that no action will be taken by the Supreme Court before Monday in the various applications for writs of prohibition restraining the judges of the Superior Court from proceeding with the trials of the several corporation officials charged by the Oliver Grand Jury with crimes of bribery. Judge Beatty intimated strongly that on Monday these applications will be taken up for consideration in open court, and that prior to that time they will not be considered in chambers, some of the justices being out of town.

LEGALITY OF JURY.

Should the Supreme Court issue an alternative writ, all of the bribery-graft prosecutions would be stopped until the final determination of the applications which are made mainly on the ground that the Superior Court is without jurisdiction to try the cases for the reason that the Oliver grand jury is an illegal body and hence the indictments returned by it are invalid. Should the writ be thereupon made permanent a new grand jury would have to be impaneled and all the work of indictment done over again. In the famous Bruner case, where decision was written by Associate Justice McFarland and concurred in by three of the other justices and dissented from by three, it was held by the Supreme Court that the filing of invalid indictments in court cannot confer jurisdiction upon that court to try them, when the grand jury itself is existent illegally. Whether this decision will be followed by the majority of the seven justices in the present matter is the cause of much speculation among lawyers throughout the State.

GRAND JURY PROBING TO INDICT GLASS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The examination of telephone officials by the grand jury in the hope of securing further evidence to connect Louis Glass with the charges of bribery and with the possibility of finding out about E. J. Zimmer's refusal to testify against Mr. Glass, was continued this afternoon. Among the witnesses called were President Scott Auditor Sherwin, Secretary Eaton, and J. J. Flynn, S. A. Montserrat, G. F. Baldwin and John Kearns of the telephone company.

More Inside Talk From Osgoods'

There are some brands of cigars that are known the world over because they are good. You have always had to pay 12 1-2 cents for these cigars up to the time when Osgood's decided that they would sell them for 10 cents.

Since this incident, thousands of dollars have been saved to smokers of good cigars in Oakland. It stands to reason that those thousands of dollars would otherwise have been in Osgood's pockets. The wholesalers don't sell to Osgood's any cheaper than they sell to other cigar dealers. Osgood's pay just as much rent, just as much taxes and just as fair salaries to their employees as do other dealers. This is sufficient proof that Osgood's return in absolute cash twenty per cent of the gross purchase of all 12 1/2 c cigars to their customers.

Now we would like to know if there is a single good reason why every smoker in Oakland should not buy his cigars from us.

In the matter of 5c cigars, we always sell them at 7 or 8 for a quarter.

WILLIS DENIES BRIBERY STORY

Brother of Pugilist Says That He Brought Pressure on Champion Gans.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—Willis Britt, brother and manager of Jimmy Britt, in a statement today, denied the charge imputed against him that he bribed Jimmy Burns (Memie) to call off the scheduled twenty-round bout between him and lightweight champion Joe Gans in Los Angeles. Britt's brother claims that his real purpose in going to Los Angeles was to investigate an offer of $50,000 made by some Searchlight promoters.

"It is true," says Britt, "that I did not want Gans to box Memie. That statement was made public by me immediately after Britt defeated Nelson. I gave good reasons why Gans should call off the Los Angeles match. The talk about my giving a bribe to Memie is nonsensical. All I had to do to have the match called off was to tell Gans that if he fought Memie before fighting Britt Britt would take on some other man. Gans could easily see there was more money in it for him to fight Jimmy for a percentage of receipts and the $25,000 guarantee than to take chances with Memie for $8,000. The statement that I offered Gans $10,000 to refuse to fight Memie is absurd."

OBJECT TO TRIAL OF LOUIS GLASS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—In Department 11 of the Superior Court today Attorney T. C. Coogan interposed a formal objection to any further proceedings by Judge Lawlor in the impending trial of Vice President Louis Glass of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company on the indictment charging him with the bribery of Supervisor Thomas F. Loneragan. The objection was based on lack of jurisdiction. Judge Lawlor set the hearing for argument for 10 o'clock Monday morning.

AGED MAN BREAKS ARM AND FRACTURES KNEE

Having just left the county hospital, where he was confined for some time with a broken thumb, Lawrence Eber, aged 74, was sent there again today with a fractured knee cap and broken arm. Eber was on a ten-foot ladder, putting up a picture molding for Mrs. Juvenile, with whom he resides at 1535 Seventeenth avenue, today, when he fell, breaking his left knee cap and left arm. The fractures were reduced at the Receiving hospital by Dr. O. D. Hamlin and Eber sent to the County hospital. Owing to his age his condition is considered serious.

SPOKANE OPERATORS ON VERGE OF STRIKE

SPOKANE, Aug. 9.—Western Union operators in the Western Union may walk out at any minute. It is stated that the messengers being sent through Helena to Portland are not being rushed owing to sympathetic operators in Portland. Because of this the line may be used through Helena to Spokane instead of Portland, in which case it is predicted Spokane men will walk out in a body. It is said that the operators of the Postal company may also strike, claiming that both companies are working together against the union.

DEFENSE WINS OPENING GRAFT CASE SKIRMISH

Army of Attorneys in Bitter Legal Battle Over Alteration of Minutes in Judge Graham's Court.

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The defense in the many graft cases now awaiting trial won a temporary victory this morning in Judge Graham's court when they succeeded in having action on the amendments to his court minutes postponed until next Wednesday.

It was one of the first general engagements in the graft war. Calhoun appeared as general in command of the defending forces. Attorneys Cobb and Harrison of the District Attorney's office led the attack.

Attorney King appeared for the first time as Calhoun's chief of staff. He was formerly a partner of the railway magnate. With him were Attorneys Earl Rogers and A. A. Moore, both of whom came out on the firing line.

Attorney Barrett for Mayor Schmitt led a sort of independent filibustering expedition in connection with the defense and was finally ordered to the rear by Attorney King. Attorneys Coogan, Drew and O'Connor were in charge of the reserves.

SHOW BITTER FEELING. Although the proceedings were merely in reference to the correction of court minutes there was a display of bitter feeling. The defense accused the District Attorney's office of trying to get certain things into the records to bolster up its cases, and the prosecution intimated that the defendants were trying to have Judge Graham become a party to evading the law by taking advantage of incorrect records.

Attorney Harrison, from Langdon's office, had prepared a lengthy amendment to the court's minutes. He urged the adoption of this, Calhoun's attorney wanted a delay in order to go over the records, the court reporter's notes, and the rough minutes.

Attorney Barrett wanted the court to leave the entire matter in status quo because he said the points at issue were essential in the determination of the motions now before the Supreme Court for writs of prohibition. He argued that the records should be left as they are until the Supreme Court should give a definitive ruling. When he said, it would be proper for Judge Graham to testify and to offer his court report or any other evidence to prove the correctness of the minutes.

ROGERS DENIES CALHOUN'S ATTORNEYS DID NOT WANT TO

Barrett objects. Judge Graham indicated that he was not inclined to grant the entire request of the district attorney. He said he thought his minutes were correct, except in two or three instances, in which the clerk, by oversight, had failed to enter certain motions. Attorney Cobb asked him to decide tomorrow. Barrett objected.

"You will consent to some time next month," said Harrison. "I will not. Yes, that's all right," said Barrett. "Now, that's just it," said Harrison, "these defendants want to take advantage of these records in the supreme court."

An altercation between the attorneys was terminated by Judge Graham. Over the protest of Attorney Cobb, he continued the motion until next Wednesday, on which day Judge Lawlor had agreed to hand down the decision, waiting for Judge Graham's action.

MINING MAN NOW BEING SOUGHT FOR

Though reputed wealthy, with large mining interests in Goldfield and an office in room 59, Bacon Block, A. W. Moseley has been accused by his wife, who resides in Alameda, of failing to provide for her and their two children. The latter are Margery, aged 6, and Leslie Moseley, aged 4 years.

Mrs. Moseley has sworn to a complaint for her husband's arrest and the warrant is in the hands of the police to be served as soon as the mining man can be found.

INDIAN TRIES TO DIE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—W. S. Espar, an Indian, tried to commit suicide at the longhouse at 136 Third street at 2 o'clock this afternoon by taking chloroform. An attendant at the house smelled the fumes in the hallway and notified Officer Segura, who removed the man to the Central Emergency Hospital.

The surgeons at the hospital administered antidotes and state that the man has an even chance for recovery. He is not known to have any friends in this city and no cause can be ascribed for his wanting to end his life. He was evidently well fixed financially, as checks aggregating several hundred dollars were found in his room.

HASEY HAS RALLIED FROM HIS OPERATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Dr. Shumate made the following statement: "Mr. Halsey is holding his own. He has rallied from the surgical shock and is resting as well as can be expected. But the chances for his recovery are unfavorable."

GYPSY GIRLS FIND NEW YORKERS "EASY"

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Local mendicancy never had a more picturesque touch than that imparted by two Hungarian gypsies who appeared on the uptown streets a few days ago. Both girls are under 20, slim, swarthy, and dark-eyed. Clad in picturesque red costumes authenticated by the characteristic lack of tidiness of their race, they hurry from one office building to another, asking the passers of all whom they catch unawares and insisting on telling their fortunes. Their amiable persistence, expressed in their limited supply of English, makes many friends for them and their stay in New York has so far been profitable.

COUNTY'S COIN AGAIN COUNTED

Public Purse Bulging With More Than Million Dollars Now Drawing Interest.

The monthly count made of the moneys in the treasury of Alameda County shows $1,325,985.51 to the credit of the taxpayers. The counting was made yesterday by Chairman John Mitchell of the Board of Supervisors, Chief Deputy County Auditor M. A. Whidden and Deputy District Attorney Walter J. Burpee. The money in the various banks is on 2 per cent interest. In the past these deposits were for merely safe-keeping, but the last Legislature enacted a statute by which the people's money will draw a rate of interest which was set by the Board of Supervisors and County Auditor several months ago. The money is divided as follows:

Amount in treasury when last counted, $1,377,626.99; receipts since then, $182,268.11; total to be accounted for, $1,559,795.10; disbursements since last count, $229,806.59; balance in treasury, $1,329,988.51, consisting of the following: United States gold coin, $21,068; silver coin, $993.51; deposit in Central Bank, $150,000; deposit in Berkeley Bank of Savings and Trust Company, $140,000; deposit in Union Savings Bank, $150,000; on deposit in the Union National Bank, $75,000; on deposit in the First National Bank, $150,000; on deposit in the Oakland Bank of Savings, $300,000; on deposit in the Security Bank and Trust Company, $72,600; on deposit in the Farmers & Merchants Bank, $15,000; on deposit in the Bank of Centerville, $43,000; on deposit in the Bank of Alameda, $9,000, on special deposit in the Union National Bank, $40,000; on special deposit in the First National Bank, $24,000; on special deposit in the Central Bank, $180,000.

MONDAY CONSIDERED NOW A BAD LUCK DAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—In the hearts and minds of the superstitious, Friday is in danger of being replaced by Monday morning. In many lines of trade the employees are afraid of Monday morning. "So strong is the feeling against it in this business," remarked the manager of a clothing establishment, "that I have hard work to get anybody to wait on the first Monday morning customer. The clerks seem possessed of the idea that bad luck for the whole week is bound to be the portion of the one who makes the first Monday sale, and each tries to shift the early caller over to the other. Sometimes to relieve the tension I wait on the first customer in this department myself, and so give everybody a fair start. Proceeding on that same principle, waiters in restaurants fight shy of the first Monday breakfast, barbers and bootblacks shun the first stubby beard and rusty shoes, and public stenographers, who work by the piece, dread the first letter."

'I'M CUMMINGS, FROM WYOMING'

Unknown Wanderer Confesses to Passing Forged Check for $40 on Bartender.

A dilapidated individual walked into Police Captain Lynch's office last night and announced impressively that he was the man for whom the police had been scouring the country during the last six months.

"Glad to see you," said Captain Lynch, politely. "What is the name, please?"

The individual paused a moment to permit the Captain to compose himself. Then in a deep, hollow voice, he disclosed his identity.

"I am Cummings," he said. "Elmer Cummings."

Captain Lynch shook with emotion. "Can it be possible," he gasped, "that you are he? Cummings, the world-renowned?"

"Yes," repeated the individual, hollowly. "I am him. And I have wanted of evading the police. For many months I have toyed with the minions of the law as a fox plays with the hound on his trail. Doubting and redoubling in my tracks, lying almost under the nose of my bewildered pursuers, meeting them face to face on the streets and then gliding stealthily away, I have had my fill of the sport, and now am content to go back and face my accusers."

"Cummings," said the Captain, when he had recovered sufficiently to grasp the true import of his revelation. "Cummings, the reports which we have received of your daring escapes have been so numerous and from so many different sources during the last six months that in this moment of my surprise I am unable to remember where your original offense was committed."

"I cannot blame you, Captain," said the renowned one. "I was in Newcastle, Wyoming, where my left fingers pointed the check and my suave tongue made possible its passage. Forty silver dollars I secured from the bartender. Henceforth my life is ended."

And the startled wonder of the police

GANZER GOES TO SONOMA CO.

Oakland Detective Sent to New York for Prisoner Who Did Not Belong Here.

George Ganzer, who was arrested in New York recently and brought back to this city to face a charge of grand larceny preferred by his former employer, Harry Kots, proprietor of a junk shop on Fourth street, has been turned over to the Sheriff of Sonoma county and will be taken to Fairfield for trial.

Ganzer is accused of stealing $300 which was entrusted to his keeping by his employer and also with selling a team belonging to Kots and pocketing the proceeds of the sale. With the money he is alleged to have stolen, Ganzer took a trip through the Eastern States and the local police last night of him for some time. He was finally apprehended in New York City and Detective Flynn was sent back to bring him to Oakland.

He was booked here on the grand larceny charge and his trial was about to be held in the local police courts when it was discovered that the alleged offense occurred while Ganzer and his employer were on a peddling trip through Sonoma county. This fact takes the case out of the jurisdiction of the Oakland courts.

Official financiers about police headquarters are now trying to figure out whether or not Sonoma county can be legally compelled to reimburse Oakland for the expense of Detective Flynn's junket to New York and return with his prisoner.

Lynch and his corps of trained assistants did not avail to bring him the name of the saloonman nor the bank on which the check was drawn.

Cummings' capture is regarded as a triumph for the local police department, and it is believed that the large reward which has undoubtedly been offered for his apprehension will fall to the lot of Captain Lynch. The noted criminal will be held until the discretion of the Sheriff is ascertained.

J. LAYMANCE SEEKS DIVORCE

Prominent Local Realty Dealer Says His Wife Has Deserted Him.

J. Walter Laymance, proprietor of Howard Springs, mining operator and realty dealer of this city, brought suit for divorce yesterday afternoon against Mrs. C. A. Laymance on the ground of desertion. The couple have been living apart for considerable time and it is said that the court proceedings follow a mutual understanding for a legal separation.

Suits for divorce on the ground of cruelty were filed yesterday by Gertrude C. Brown against Andrew Brown, by Sally McKean against James McKean, by Augusta Romer against Charles F. Romer.

A final decree of divorce was given this morning to Mabel T. Burnham against Walter W. Burnham on the ground of desertion. The wife also alleged that her husband beat her when he came home drunk.

WIFE AND EX-WIFE BEG DYING MAN TO FORGIVE

Former King of Gamblers Sinks Into Last Slumber Without Granting Plea of Two Women at Bedside.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Two wives of Michael C. McDonald, the divorced gambler, because she was faithless and the other because she was a murder suspect—kneeling at the bedside of the dying man yesterday at the bedside of the ex-king of gamblers, who is dying in the St. Anthony de Padua Hospital.

Both pleaded for forgiveness. Each in turn, weeping and kissing the old man's hand, sobbed for a word or look of recognition. Their repentance was too late. The wasted figure on the hospital cot was too near death to give either woman the smile or the word she craved.

Heavy breathing, following a sudden sinking spell shortly after noon, told the two women and sorrowing relatives, who had gathered in the hospital, that the end was near.

"He will not regain consciousness," said Dr. Leonard St. John.

Mrs. Dora McDonald, the beautiful young wife, who is to be tried for the murder of Webster Guerin, entered the sickroom after McDonald's relatives had relented enough to permit her to see him. None of his relatives talked to her or to the first wife, who had come on from Ohio to see her former husband before death.

In the hall outside, awaiting the end, Mrs. Dora McDonald encountered the first wife of the former gambling king. Not a word was exchanged by the women, who stood gazing at each other curiously.

RIGO FEARS MARTIN SUIT

Gypsy Fiddler to Send Wife to Europe to Escape Slander Suit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Fiddler Janczi Rigo, the former husband of Princess Chimay, is going to send his present wife abroad to escape the activities of Mrs. John Martin of Oakland, Cal., who has sued her for $250,000 damages for alleged slander. Rigo thinks Mrs. Martin is insane, and says he is alarmed for Mrs. Rigo's safety because of the threatening actions of Mrs. Martin in the past.

Both Rigo and his wife are at Atlantic City, where the fiddler is playing a musical engagement, but Mrs. Rigo is expected to embark for Europe within a few days.

Rigo was very angry over the slander suit that Mrs. Martin has begun against his wife. He said: "I suppose I shall have to hire a lawyer to fight this trunk suit. Mrs. Rigo is getting ready now and will leave for Europe as soon as possible, for I am afraid that this Mrs. Martin is likely to do her some harm. As for the merits of the case the whole story of Mrs. Martin is absurd."

JANCZI RIGO, THE VIOLINIST.

My wife is the former Mrs. Cashar Emerson, and is not the Princess Chimay at all. I have not seen the princess, who was once my wife, for a long time. This allegation of Mrs. Martin is ridiculous."

Mrs. Rigo was equally emphatic in denying that she and the once beautiful Clara Ward are the same person. Said she:

"It is true that the Princess Chimay, who is my cousin, resembles me in looks. We really look a great deal alike. Our profiles are identical, but our hair is not the same color, and my cousin is ten years older than I am."

Whether Mrs. Martin intends to press her suit against Mrs. Rigo is not known. Mrs. Martin was seen recently in New York accompanied by a 15-year-old boy, who is supposed to be "Baby John" Martin, who figured in the Martin will case in San Francisco, but it is believed she went out of town several days ago.

According to the story that Mrs. Rigo told yesterday, Mrs. Martin has been seen in the vicinity of the concert hall where the gypsy fiddler is Atlantic City, but her presence there had not been confirmed.

During the recent interview, which is made the basis of Mrs. Martin's slander suit, Mrs. Rigo said that she believed Mrs. Martin was trying to foil this boy, who accompanied her, upon the executors of the Ward estate as the heir to the millions left by Clara Ward's father.

The present Mrs. Rigo was once the wife of Cashar Emerson, the well-known New York artist, from whom she was divorced. Rigo declares that he is done with the Princess Chimay, and that his love for his present wife is enduring and indelible.

MORE TROUBLE FOR SULLIVANS

Reno Stockbroker Firm Sues One Partner, His Wife and Cousin for Its Books.

RENO, Nev., August 9.—Trouble in the firm of Sullivan & Rice, stockbrokers of Reno, is growing more acute, a suit for $1500 being filed yesterday afternoon by the company against L. M. Sullivan, his wife and cousin, James Sullivan. The complaint alleges that the defendants secured unlawful possession of the books of the firm and have refused to surrender them upon demand. Armed with a search warrant, Sheriff Pennington went to the Sullivan home and searched the house from garret to cellar, without finding any trace of the company's ledger, cash book, journal or sales book. The missing papers also include those of the Rich Gulch Wonder Mining Company, in which corporation the firm owned the majority of stock.

The search warrant provides for admittance to any place in town, and the search will be continued, states Rice.

A second warrant was sworn out charging Sullivan with grand larceny.

C. J. HEESSEMAN HAS NEW IDEAS

Well-Known Merchant Found Oakland in Great Favor in the East.

Charles J. Heeseman, the popular Washington street merchant, returned yesterday from his semi-annual business trip East. He comes home with a lot of new ideas which he will put into his business. Mr. Heeseman is one of Oakland's most consistent boosters, and he is going to tell Mayor Mott a lot of things he learned in the East that will help this city. He is a close observer and takes in everything when he is away.

In talking about his trip with a TRIBUNE reporter, Mr. Heeseman said:

"You can depend upon it that Oakland is on the map in the East, as it has never been before. We are away up in G with the Eastern people. Our city is mentioned before any other place on the coast. We are acquiring a splendid reputation on the Atlantic Coast."

THE WHOLESALEERS.

"The wholesaleers in the East have heard of our wonderful progress and I can tell you they are looking to Oakland for business. You know this city has become the trading center for the surrounding counties and our wholesaleers are doing a great business. Of course everybody knows that our retail dealers are going right to the front. Nearly all of us want to enlarge our quarters. These stories have all gone East and they have done us a world of good."

"People will find that when a man goes out of town and is free to think and to talk he can hear a whole lot of things that he will never hear on his own doorstep. What gratifies me immensely is the fact that while Oakland has suddenly jumped to the front place in the minds of these hard-headed business men on the other side of the continent they also believe that in the near future we shall take much bigger strides. They begin to look on this city as the natural place from which the tremendously-growing trade of the Pacific will be done."

THREE WAYS TO SHIP.

"The large majority of the shippers of the East know all about our magnificent railroad and shipping facilities. They watch these things very closely because it is an element in their business. It was very interesting to have people ask me whether the Western Pacific, the Southern Pacific or the Santa Fe would be the best route to ship by. Not so very long ago there was only one way for anything to reach Oakland and we had to patronize it because it was a case of 'Hobson's choice.' Now these Easterners figure this freight matter very closely, and many of them know more about such things than we know ourselves."

"I will tell you something we ought to do. It is nothing new but it is still true—that is that we don't blow half enough about our city. We hear more complimentary things about Oakland three thousand miles away than I have ever seen printed in this city. Of course we are doing a great deal more than we ever did, but we are not doing half enough—we are all too busy to give this publicity proposition the attention it deserves, but we can, if we will, put the treasures of our commercial organizations on such a footing that their officers can do something like justice to Oakland. We want to do it because it is expected of us, and the sooner we do it the better."

ALLEGED SISTER OF EARL NOW IN JAIL

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—After a career which has been remarkable on account of the number of persons of status whose confidence she gained, the tall, light-haired English woman of striking appearance, who called herself Eva Fox-Strangways, sister of the Earl of Rochester, finds herself in the Tombs, charged with passing worthless checks, and utterly friendless.

She was arrested in Toronto on Tuesday in a modest boarding house and waived extradition proceedings. In the Canadian city, it seems, she discarded her claims to relationship to the English peer and went by the name of Edith St. Clair.

WELL EDUCATED.

Little is known of her previous history or where she obtained her unusually good education. She is accused of having victimized several fashionable dressmakers.

In Jefferson Market Police Court the air of being high-born and used to luxury which she had affected was wanting and this was heightened by a far from fashionable garb.

The dressmaker who brought the charge is inclined to drop the case and some of the hotels are said to be feeling just as lenient. It may be that when her case is called there will be no one to press the charges, but meantime, unless some one goes on her bond, she will have to wait for weeks in the Tombs.

FOUR CONVICTS DIG THEIR WAY TO LIBERTY

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 9.—Bill Miner, under life sentence for robbing a Canadian Pacific Railway train at Kamloops last year, and three other convicts, J. V. Clarke, W. J. Woods and A. F. McCloskey, escaped yesterday afternoon from the Westminister penitentiary. They had excavated a hole near a brick smokestack and escaped into a field off the prison grounds. Although the second escape is surrounded by a high fence, the fugitives scaled this and got away. The negligence of a guard in the second escape is given as the cause of escape. Clarke was a forger and three-termer. Wood was in for four years for theft, and McCloskey seven years for house-breaking.

THINK BURGULAR CAUGHT.

BUTTE, MONT., Aug. 9.—A special from Billings says: What is believed to be an important capture has been made by Policeman McDonald in this city, when he arrested a suspicious-looking individual, who gave his name as James Burke, who is believed by the officer to be wanted in St. Louis for the murder of Patrolman Boyce, who was killed while attempting to rescue a burglar. The man arrested tallies exactly with the description sent out by the chief of police of St. Louis.

DIES OF WOUND.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 9.—G. A. Elason, who was shot by W. A. Durand at San Marcos recently, died last night. Elason had survived ten days with a bullet wound in his skull from which his brains issued. Durand is under arrest. He claims self-defense.

WHO AM I?

Money For The Tribune Readers Who Will
Guess Names of Merchants

On the first classified page of THE TRIBUNE each evening until further notice will appear a portion of picture of one of Oakland's leading merchants. Watch carefully this page and clip out the photo. Read instructions, and earn easy money. Merchants will cheerfully answer all inquiries and your knowledge of the various merchants whom you should know should enable you to guess correctly the subject. The contest is open to all TRIBUNE subscribers, whether monthly or yearly subscribers. Merchants whose places of business are centrally located are selected so that you may drop into their stores at any time while shopping. Oakland has a superior class of merchants and THE TRIBUNE believes that Oakland citizens should become better acquainted.

THE TRIBUNE will impart no information, so do not call up the office. Ample time will be given after the last picture of the series has been run for contestants to send in guesses. Read the easy conditions on classified page and follow each number carefully.

ICES SAFE, SAYS SCIENCE

No Danger to Summer Girl in Frozen Sweets, Declares Food Expert.

In his laboratory at the college of agriculture on the campus. In this forthcoming treatise he will discuss learning and in scientific terms about ice cream, and how it should be made, and what proportion of various fats and creams and sugars and flavoring matters it should contain, to be chemically correct and most nourishing.

Today Professor Jaffa gave an outline of this treatise. He stated, for the benefit of the summer girl whose dearest delight is to be found in limitless dishes of ice cream, that her favorite beverage or food will not hurt her, as long as she refrains from absolute gluttony.

There is expected now to arise from hill and dale, from hamlet and from boulevard, wherever the summer girl congregates and has her hair, paeans of rejoicing. Professor Jaffa has spoken the words that spells freedom from fear for her.

NO FEAR OF PAIN.

It is the emancipation proclamation for the glorious summer girl. She need no longer debate between love of an extra ice cream and dread of a "tummy" ache, or fear of losing the elegant complexion which may have been gained by her at great expense and extraordinary effort.

Professor Jaffa has declared, speaking ex-cathedra, that ice cream is good for her. It is the last word in science. There need be no lurking suspicion, either, that Dr. Jaffa is making this declaration about ice cream, merely to curry favor with the beautiful summer maiden. Professor Jaffa is a calm, cold scientist who is rated as the most eminent authority on nutrition problems in the country.

WORDS CARRY WEIGHT.

Because of this high station he occupies, Dr. Jaffa's words regarding the problem involved in eating ice cream carry great weight. He said today: "Despite the fact that the Iowa State Board of Health has pronounced against ice cream as being dangerous to the stomach, the fact remains that ice cream, unless poisoned by the use of improper flavoring matters or rancid cream, is excellent food."

Ice cream is nutritious. It conveys nourishment to the body. It is valuable at many times and in many cases where solid food could not be used. Ice cream is often prescribed, and properly so, for fever patients who could not well partake of solid foodstuffs.

FOOD, NOT LUXURY.

"Ice cream as a luxury does not especially interest me. I have spoken of it merely as a sort of food which I have analyzed in my laboratory, and about which I shall later have some figures and facts to give out. The fact that ice cream is palatable to most people, and that it is an especial favorite with women folk, is, of course, well known, but I have not considered that phase of the matter."

It may be a source of satisfaction to womenkind to know that their favorite summer refreshment is scientifically

FATALLY HURT IN FLYING BELT

James Hansen Dies of Injuries Received While Working at Port Costa.

James Hansen, a laborer employed in McNeil's warehouse at Port Costa, sustained fatal injuries by being caught in a belt while he was at work yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the Fabiola Hospital, where he died at about 4 o'clock this morning. The deceased was 44 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. His body was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held on Sunday.

BRUTAL REFUGEE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—Mrs. L. Williams, who lives at the Mission Park Hotel, camp, swore out a warrant in Judge Weller's court this morning for the arrest of her husband, L. F. Williams, on a charge of battery. The woman alleges that Williams has deserted her and is now living with another woman at 9 1/2 Dearborn street. She says that on the 5th of August her husband came to see her and in a dispute which arose, he struck her in the face, knowing that she was in a delicate condition at the time.

BORDEN'S LEG IS BROKEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—William Borden received a broken leg this morning while at work in a Southern Pacific car at Second and Townsend streets. Borden was letting heavy sacks of cement when one of them, which had already been piled up, fell upon his leg and broke it. The member was set at the Harbor Hospital.

sound and composed of nutritious matter, though probably if the ladies read it they would care little for any discussion of the matter, pro or con, by any scientist.

"Some people have the notion that because ice cream is exceedingly cold it is likely to harm the stomach. That is absurd. Such matters are regulated by the blood and the organs of the human body. Scientists have operated on a dog's stomach, putting a delicate thermometer under it while the process of digestion was going on, and have noted that cold material or hot material passed through the stomach of the dog did not affect the temperature. The blood kept the stomach's temperature normal."

"It is so with the human stomach. Ice cream doesn't lower the temperature of the stomach. The living warm tissues are so arranged that all the food, hot or cold, is brought into touch with the temperature of the stomach and all are kept equal."

"Of course a glutton who consumed a gallon of ice cream at a sitting would be distressed, just as would a man who consumed a gallon of hot soup. I am speaking of normal cases of normal people. For such ice cream is nutritious and an article of food that is of value."

"The boat is late."

BILL QUANTRELL, THOUGHT KILLED IN WAR, ALIVE

Guerilla Band's Leader Tells How He Rode 70 Miles After Surgeon Said He Would Die in Two Hours.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 2.—Bill Quantrell, leader of Quantrell's guerrillas in the Civil War, who, according to history, died of wounds at a Kentucky hospital after his riders were cut up, is still alive and lives at Quantino, on the northwest coast of Vancouver Island, under the name of John Sharp, according to a number of people who have conversed with him.

J. B. Duffy, a prominent timberman who recently became interested in timber land at Quantino, recognized John Sharp, who is over 70, wiry and gray, as Quantrell, Duffy having been a member of the Michigan troop of cavalry which cut up Quantrell's force. He stated that Duffy that he was correct in recognition.

Sharp said he had been left at dead, and instead of dying of his wounds at Louisville as history recorded, had taken a horse, ridden miles and disappeared. He made his way to South America, living a number of years in Chile, whence he went to Texas, where he engaged in the cattle business, making considerable money, which he exhausted.

LOGGER AND TRAPPER.
Then he went to Oregon, where he punched cows and drove cattle over the mountains. From Oregon he came to British Columbia nearly a dozen years ago, engaged in logging at different camps of the northern coast of Vancouver Island until ten years ago, when he became a trapper of the northern coast. Six or seven years ago he went to Quantino, where he was made caretaker at West Vancouver mill.

When J. B. Duffy landed at Quantino on the steamer Tees he met John Sharp on the beach at Coal Harbor. Duffy looked the old man over and said: "Is that you, Quantrell, you—old rascal?"

"Come into the house," said Sharp, and for some hours the two men talked, Sharp stating he was in reality Quantrell, and he talked at length of the raids in Kansas and elsewhere and eagerly listened to Duffy's tales from the point of view of the cavalryman of the United States army. He was most keenly interested in the story of the cutting up of his band and when the narrator told of how 40 had been killed tears rolled down the old man's cheeks.

ADmits IDENTITY.
R. E. Montgomery, who is engaged in business at Quantino and who knew Sharp, or Quantrell, at Fort Worth, Texas, and H. O. Berg, postmaster at Quantino, are two others to whom Sharp has stated his identity as Quantrell.

"I might as well admit it," Sharp told both. "It seems that I cannot hide the fact."

The story the old man told to the informant of the Associated Press was that when his band had been cut up he had been bayoneted in the chest and had a bullet wound around the shoulder. The surgeon who looked him over said he could not live more than two hours and he had been left so that others with more chance of recovery could be attended to by the over-worked surgeons. While they tended the others he got up, despite his wounds, and disappeared.

That night, he said, he rode 70 miles. He took flight to South America and after raising cattle there went to cattle raising in Texas, ranching in Oregon and logging in British Columbia. He engaged in trapping and six or seven years ago reached Quantino. There he found employment and has since remained known only as old John Sharp, until Duffy came and recognized him as Bill Quantrell.

PLAN TO SLAY 2 PRESIDENTS

Roosevelt and Diaz Objects to Mexican Revolutionists Attacks.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—The Herald said today:

"In a dingy building on San Fernando street is the headquarters of La Libertad, the Mexican Sons of Liberty, a party organized for the overthrow of the present government of Mexico. The organization is headed by Ricardo Flores Magón, a Mexican bandit and outlaw, for whom the Mexican government offers a reward of $20,000, demand for his capture, and who is a representative in this city in Modesto Diaz. The origin of this revolutionary party is the revolution, of which Diaz is editor and publisher.

20,000 MEMBERS.
Back of the publication is a junta composed of fifteen members, including Diaz, the real chairman, his brother, Enrique Magón, vice-chairman, and Modesto Diaz, secretary and active manager. The junta controls a membership of more than 20,000 Mexican laborers, calling themselves "patriots."

The object of the organization is the overthrow of the Diaz government, the assassination of President Diaz, and the establishment of a republic in Mexico, with Ricardo Magón as the head and members of the local junta as his advisers.

In La Revolution the killing of President Diaz and of President Roosevelt is advocated. The plan is to assassinate Diaz because they are accused of having entered into a conspiracy to oppress the laboring classes in this country and rob them of their just dues as wage-earners.

President Roosevelt is also accused in "La Revolution" of being in a conspiracy with President Diaz to perpetuate the Diaz government.

The attention of the department of justice at Washington has been called to La Revolution and the United States attorney for Southern California has been instructed to inquire into the existence of the junta.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS PLAN TO GO TO BOSTON

Man Shouts for Roosevelt to Interfere

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—An insane man rushed into the Central Police Station and inquired in an excited manner whether President Roosevelt was going to interfere with the strike at once.

He begged, weep, run-down? Headed man, "I want a plain case for my liver. Burdock Blood Bitters cures my liver and stomach, promotes digestion and purifies the blood."

TWENTIETH CENTURY TRAIN HAS ACCIDENT

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The Twentieth Century train, west-bound on the Lake Shore Railroad, met with an accident today near Chesterton, Ind. A heavy freight train east-bound parted when not far from Chesterton, throwing several cars on the west-bound track. The Twentieth Century train came along and struck the freight cars which had been thrown in the way. Two cars of the passenger train were derailed. No passengers were injured. The Twentieth Century was delayed about three hours.

CORNELIUS IS GIVEN A RAP

In Statement Issued by Head of New Organization of Carmen.

Harry Harrison, who claims to be the head of the newly organized association of street car railway men, composed of dissatisfied members of local No. 306, issued the following statement last night:

"To the most obtuse observer it must be most apparent that the circumstances surrounding the carmen's strike were very peculiar, and that motives beneath the surface were responsible for it. At first Cornelius opposed a strike and Secretary Bowling was its strongest supporter. Subsequently Cornelius joined Bowling in strongly advocating the strike.

"Isidor Jacobs, representing the civic league, went to Cornelius before the strike was declared, and at the suggestion of some of the carmen presented to Cornelius a letter showing a possible way to arbitrate the matter of wages, but Cornelius said nothing could be done, as they were bound to be a strike. After the men had struck, then Cornelius said he would be willing to listen to a proposition of mediation. Jacobs told Cornelius that a great mistake would be made by striking, and that a terrible loss would be sustained by merchants and by laborers alike, and he also said public opinion would not be with the strikers.

"It was apparent that in case of a strike Schmitz would be able, as he supposed, to step in and end industrial strife, and thereby pose as the savior of San Francisco. But it was necessary to discover the intermediary that handled the deal. It must be borne in mind that Cornelius is an appointee of Schmitz, holding the position of civil service commissioner.

"At the conciliation committee conference at which Cornelius appeared, together with Charles Cordes of the carmen's union conference committee, the fact was brought out that Secretary Bowling of the carmen's union was not a member of the conference committee of the carmen and was not authorized by the executive committee of the carmen's union to hold conference with Schmitz.

"Cornelius and Cordes admitted that if Bowling had had such interviews they were kept secret from the executive committee of the carmen's union, and to say the least looked pretty bad.

REPORTED TO SCHMITZ.

"Someone at the meeting of the conciliation committee must have reported this to Schmitz, who that evening had a telephone message sent to Jacobs asking him to see him on an important matter. Jacobs called at the Mayor's residence and the Mayor brought up the matter. Later Schmitz admitted that he had held a conference with Bowling, but said the conference was for the purpose of preventing a strike.

"The fact remains, however, that these conferences with Bowling at the Mayor's residence had been kept strictly secret by the Mayor and Bowling, who did not even inform the executive committee of the carmen that he was holding them. The fact also remains that subsequent to the conference at the Mayor's residence, Bowling was the strongest advocate of a strike, and that Cornelius joined him at the last moment, and also became a strong advocate of the strike at the time when a delay of a few days might have brought about a compromise.

"It must have been that Schmitz and Cornelius were determined to bring about a strike for political reasons. This is confirmed by the fact that Bowling, P. H. McCarthy, president of the building trades council, and Secretary Twelvetree of that association, have opened up a political bureau on the second floor of the Richmond hotel, on Fifteenth street, near Mission.

"It is too bad the city's interests had to suffer to such a tremendous extent to carry out the schemes of these men. It is deplorable that the cause of honestly organized labor must suffer through machinations of men who should have protected instead of ruined. It is not the first time organized laboring men have allowed dust to be thrown in their eyes and been made to suffer thereby."

President Cornelius of the carmen's union refused to take Harrison's statement seriously. He said:

"Everyone familiar with the situation knows him to be the liar that he is and a traitor to unionism. He is mouthing the things Calhoun tells him to say, and he would say anything for the sake of his reelection. Decent union men pay no attention to him."

GERMAN LORD CAFE STEWARD

Jilted Member of Kaiser's Army
Will Forget His Grief at Ocean Resort.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Captain Paul Raubach, German nobleman, officer in the Kaiser's army, one of the world's greatest swimmers and a swordsman of known prowess in Europe, with credentials to prove all these claims to distinction, has taken a position as steward in a cafe on Hollister pier, Santa Monica. To forget an affair of the heart in his native land by working as a common American citizen and mingling with busy people, he virtually renounces home, friends, title and army commission, and will remain here for the summer because the water attracts him.

Off the coast of Norway fifteen years ago Raubach made a record of twenty miles in the water. Weighing 198 and with the muscles of a giant, a lifetime seldom swims Raubach either in the water or on land. At the cottage in which Raubach lives hangs the sword he carried when at the head of his company, and also a hat worn by General Buller in his South African campaigns and given by that commander to the captain.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Patches. Try one and be free from pain. Price 15 cents.

Endorsed by the County.
"The most popular remedy in Otesago county, and the best friend of my family," writes William M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otesago Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an invaluable cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for lung and throat ailments. Give it to your loved ones. It is the best remedy for Otesago County, drug stores, grocery and hardware stores, and all the best of the best. Price 15 cents. Trial bottle free."

Plumtree, Plumtree and Plumtree are the only ones who can give you the best of the best. Try one and be free from pain. Price 15 cents.
